EARLY PEACE PROBABLE IN THE BALKANS

SUNSHINE IS NECESSARY NOW TO IMMENSE YIELD

Yesterday's Precipitation General and Sufficient Throughout the West.

FEW DISTRCTS ONLY SUFFERED FROM DROUGHT

Winnipeg, July 11—Throughout the Canadian prairie west copious rains fell yesterday, starting generally about noon, and continuing well on into the night. At some points it is raining yet.

While the western crops are not, as a rule, in urgent need of rain, a few places, like the Brandon district, southern Manitoba and parts of Saskatchewan and Alberta, have been suffering for lack of moisture.

According to the correspondents of the Western Associated Press, however, yesterday's precipitation improved the crop situation in those districts 100 per cent.

The rain was not spasmodic, but from the first fall has been a steady, soaking downpour, with hardly a moderation throughout the day.

Of all the principal western cities only Edmonton, Calgary and Regina reported "no rain," and of these Edmonton had a heavy fall Wednesday night, while at Calgary and Regina the sky is overcast with heavy clouds and a fall is imminent.

From as far west as Nelson the "heavy rain" bulletin has been received. At midnight Wednesday a slight decrease in the fall in some points was reported.

Outlook Is Encouraging.

Calgary, July 11—Ten days of sunshine, after splendid rains all over Alberta have put the crops of this province in the best condition possible. Rains within the next fortnight will insure a bumper crop. Wheat is well headed out verywhere tand oats and barley well advanced.

The yield of sugar beets in the Cardstone district is said to be larger than usual.

Profiting by the difficulties in spring grain in the past, the farmers of many districts have gone in for mixed farming, particularly in swine, and thousands of hogs will be shipped from sections this fall that have shipped none in the past.

The outlook is very encouraging.

Conditions Are Promising.

Lethbridge, July 11—Only a light shower fell here yesterday, but most of the country to the north and east fared better. The moisture was most welcome, although by no means badly needed. Crop conditions in the south country are decidedly promising. A little hail fell yesterday, but not enough to cause damage.

Will Work Wonders.

Medicine Hat, July 11—Rain practically all day yesterday with the outlook for another wet one today will work wonders for the crops. The hot weather of the last two weeks has advanced them wonderfully, but has practically absorbed all the moisture. The outlook never was better.

Prospects Are Excellent.

Saskatoon, July 11—Rain fell in light showers all yesterday afternoon, setting into a heavy soaking downpour at 7 p.m., and lasting without intermission until midnight when it moderated.

Crops were not suffering in this district from lack of moisture on account of the heavy rains of a week ago, and had made great headway under the influence of the warm weather of the last few days.

The thorough soaking of last night puts all thought of lack of moisture aside and with a normal amount of warm sunshine there is no question that all grain, except that which was sown too late, will mature safely, barring hail storms.

Better For Downpour.

Moose Jaw, July 11—Rain started here 24 hours ago and with intermissions, continued through the night. There was a heavy thunderstorm, but during yesterday it was fair. During the evening another thunderstorm ushered in more moisture and it has been raining since.

Wheat Crop Benefitted.

Brandon, July 11—An all-day soaking rain fell here yesterday. While crops in general were not in general suffering for the want of moisture, the rain of yesterday was badly needed to insure a bumper wheat crop.

GOVERNOR BULYEA ANXIOUS TO KNOW IF HE GETS WATER

Representative of the King Quite as Perturbed As Common Herd.

WITH MINISTER GOES TO INTERVIEW MAYOR

Does Not Relish Idea of Having to Live in Government House and Get Water Out of a Barrel.

It is not often that a representative of his majesty the King of England and Emperor of India, together with one of his ministers wait outside the mayor's office along with the men who wants to know why the pavement past his house is chipped, and the gentleman with the article soul who wants the corners of the sidewalks scalloped instead of being left plain. And yet they the two of them this morning, large as life, his Honor Lieutenant-Governor Bulyea and the Hon. Charles Mitchell, just plain Mr. Bulyea and Mr. Mitchell, shorn of the dignity and majesty of office, and waiting with the rest of the humble petitioners until his worship could see them. They had a real, like grievance, too. Some anarchistic soul had conceived the diabolic plan of leaving the new Government house without sewer connection, and the governor had visions of himself wielding a pump handle and carrying pails of water into the house. When you come to give the matter careful consideration, Government house is no small cottage, and it would take a great carrying of water to keep the place supplied. Neither the first man in Alberta nor his minister fancied themselves in the role of Rebekah at the well.

Then there was the matter of paving right up to Government house. The lieutenant-governor wanted to know if it had occurred to the man responsible that there might be some parties to Government house this year and that it would be a nice thing if the guests had to walk the plank from Athabasca avenue, where the pavement is to end, to the front door of the mansion.

The mayor informed the lieutenant-governor and his minister that there would be no necessity of them drinking out of a barrel, but that the question of paving had not yet been definitely decided.

The engineer had been asked to bring in a statement giving the cost of the full width paving from Twenty-fourth street to the bridge and about 100 feet west of the bridge to reach the Government house. It is quite probable that the entire avenue will now be paved that far and from that point on it will be reduced to 70 feet.

The whole program of public improvements was taken up this morning with the city engineer, the object being to curtail if possible in the amount

NORTH BATTLEFORD SELLS ¼-MILLION DEBENTURES

North Battleford, Sask., July 11.—Notwithstanding the financial stringency and in spite of Horne Payne's attempt to knock Canadian municipal bonds, this city has received and accepted an offer from a British investor for $500,000 worth of debentures.

Forty-Seven Lives is Fraser's Toll Since the Ice Went Out

Men Placed at Entrance to Canyon to Prevent Tenderfeet Risking Their Lives in Death Trap of Boiling Fraser.

Tete Jaune Cache, July 11.—A toll of 47 human lives has been taken by the Fraser river since the breaking up of the ice a little over two months ago, and as a result the railway contractors, Foley, Welch and Stewart, have placed men on guard at the entrance to both of the canyons to prevent those unacquainted with the river from unnecessarily risking their lives by trying to go through the canyons with their scows and rafts.

So turbulent and dangerous are the waters at these points that the steamer which plys regularly between here and Fort George ties up before entering the canyons and the passengers and such of the crew as can be spared are forced to walk around while the vessel is steamed through with ropes from either bank.

Of the 47 who have lost their lives only 32 bodies have been recovered, th others being swirled far down the Fraser. Four men who attempted to negotiate the rapids three weeks ago managed to get through, but in doing so lost their scow and all the goods which it contained, amounting in value to a little over $6,000.

There is a constant stream of activity along the water front these days, and lucky is the man who can secure transportation for his goods when he wants it. Passengers can always go by boat, which makes the trip between here and Fort George every 11 days, but the transportation of supplies is a more difficult problem and a large force of men is busily engaged daily in the construction of scows for transportation purposes. Last week 28 were sent out from here for the Fort, carrying goods value at over $100,000, while as much more is still to be delivered.

DUNVEGAN GRADE THROUGH TO RIVER BY SEPTEMBER 1

Contracts Let for All Uncompleted Sections of McArthur Road.

TRACKLAYERS DUE AT MIRROR IN NOVEMBER

Graders North of the River are Stretched Away as Far as Grouard — Bridge to Be Built Next Winter.

Mirror Landing, Alta., July 11.—All the uncompleted grading work northward from Edmonton to the Athabasca river on the Edmonton and Dunvegan railway is now under contract and will be completed to the river, according to present calculations, by September, and the track-layers are expected to reach the same point sometime in November. The graders on the line north of here have reached a point few miles south of Grouard. The steel bridge which is to carry the line over the Athabasca will be built during the winter and will be ready for the passage of construction trains early next spring. It is understood that the company will open the line for traffic between Edmonton and the river shortly after the rails have been laid. Mirror Landing will be the first divisional point from Edmonton. The distance is 125 miles.

Tete Jaune Cache Prepares to Move

It Will Follow the Railway Construction Activity and Go to Mile 79.

Tete Jaune Cache is about to follow the route of all other construction camps. Where today all is bustle and activity, a month from today only the foundations of the shacks will remain. The town is getting ready to move, and during the next four weeks it is expected that all the restaurants, boarding houses and other interests which follow the railway construction will have removed to mile 79 B.C., which will then be the centre of activity for three or four months, when also it will be deserted as the steel head progresses farther westward.

FINES FOR PICTURE THEATRE MANAGERS

They Must Pay $40 and Costs, But All of Them Will Appeal—Test Case for Next Thursday.

The cases of the managers of the Gem, Monarch, and Portola picture theatres for infractions of the Lord's Day Act were heard in police court this morning. These managers were summoned to appear for keeping open on Sunday, and after hearing the evidence Inspector Raven fined each one of them $40 and costs of $4.25. They all gave notice of an appeal.

The case against the Orpheum was adjourned until Thursday and it is stated a test case will be made of this one.

TWO ADDITIONAL BODIES GIVEN UP BY SASKATCHEWAN

First Is That of Mrs. Everett Case and Is Found Near East End Bridge,

THAT OF MAN IS SEEN, BUT NOT IDENTIFIED

Boat Is Sent Down the Stream After It and It May Be Recovered Sometime This Afternoon.

The Saskatchewan river, which has taken below its surface so many victims in the last few weeks, is giving up its dead, and two more bodies were found today, the first being that of Mrs. Everett Case, who perished in the launch disaster, and the other one, as yet not unrecovered or identified, that of a man.

The body of Mrs. Case was discovered about 7 o'clock this morning floating down stream opposite the penitentiary coal mine near the Marjorie street bridge. Her body was taken from the water by the police, who were notified, and Dr. Forin, the coroner, ordered the remains taken to the Connelly-McKinley parlors, where it was identified by Mr. Case's brother. Connelly & McKinley removed the body to McCoppen & Lamberts", as the arrangements had been made for the funeral there. Mrs. Case's body will in all probability be shipped to her former home in the east for interment.

Mr. Case, who was in Wetaskiwin, was notified, and arrived in the city at 5 o'clock.

The other body was seen floating down stream by A. Davis, the foreman on the new trunk sewer construction, and he reported the matter by 'phone to the police. He sent a man along the shore to follow it with the hope that it might perhaps drift in, but though at one spot the man was nearly able to recover it, the current took it out of his reach.

The mounted police were notified as well as people at Clover Bar and Fort Saskatchewan, and a watch is being kept for it along the river bank.

Mr. Thomas Grace was informed of the find and stated that he would set out in one of his motor launches, provided the steamer, which is down the river, did not bring it back this afternoon.

The steamer, which is down the river some miles, will arrive about 6 o'clock, and it is thought likely will have recovered it, as all the men employed on the boat are on the look out for floating bodies.

That the body which is somewhere along the river is either that of Patton or Wahl, both of whom were drowned near the city, is certain, and it is surmised that the body found near Bruderheim also is one of these two men, though no definite information can be gained regarding this.

ANOTHER FLYING BOAT STARTS LONG JOURNEY

After Many Delays Martin Leaves Chicago in Hydro-aeroplane to Make Trip Over Lakes to Detroit.

Chicago, July 11—Glenn L. Martin, after many delays, left Chicago in his hydroaeroplane at 7.50 o'clock this morning in the 900 mile race around the lakes to Detroit. Martin was accompanied by Charles Day. Both are Los Angeles men.

He made a pretty start and took the air quickly. He planned to dip into the harbor at Michigan City to touch at South Havana and to make Macataw Beach over a course of 150 miles by night.

Martin Lands at Michigan.

Michigan, Ind., July 11—Glenn Martin landed in the harbor here at 9 o'clock, carrying Charles Day in his machine. They ascended again at 9.45 and headed for Macataw Bay.

Beckwith Reaches Matawa.

Matawa Park, Mich., July 11—Aviator Beckwith Havens, who reached this place Wednesday night in the Chicago-Detroit hydro-aeroplane cruise, will leave for Manistee early tomorrow morning, having stayed here yesterday because of the high wind.

WEYBURN SEEKS INCORPORATION.

Weyburn, July 11.—Official steps are now being taken with a view to having the town of Weyburn, Sask., incorporated as a city.

The final returns in connection with the recent census gives a sworn population of 5,345.

McQUAID CASE DISMISSED.

E. S. McQuaid, who was summoned to appear for speeding in his auto, proved to the satisfaction of the court that he did not do so, and accordingly his worship dismissed the case.

Every Time it Thunders Girl is Robbed of Voice

Each Time She Has Been Made Able to Speak Again Through Having Been Frightened or Shocked by Prearranged Action of Friends.

Marinette, Wis., July 11.—Every time it thunders Lucy Sephalla, 12 years old, of Dollar Bay, Mich., loses her voice. She first lost her voice six weeks ago during a thunderstorm. Shortly afterward it was restored when she was playfully frightened by a friend. In each electrical storm since that time the same thing happens. Each time her voice has been restored by a pre-arranged surprise or shock. Many physicians have been studying the case.

ENGLISH VISIT OF AMERICANS ENDED

They Are Congratulated on the Success of Their Probe of Soil Economy

London, July 11.—The English visit of the American agricultural commission was concluded last night with a dinner given by the board of agriculture. Two hundred persons were present and the Rt. Hon. Walter Runciman, president of the board, presided.

Among the guests were the American ambassador and Mrs. Walter Page, Lord Strathcona, Sir George Raid, Earl Grey, former governor-general of Canada, Sir Rider Haggard, the Earl of Shaftsbury, the Earl of Denbeigh, Baron Elith and Baron Islington.

President Runciman congratulated the American on the success of the tour and spoke of the good relations between the two countries. He said the English were proud of their excellence of agriculture.

Ambassador Page said it was so much for the cultivation of the soil as for the cultivation of men.

The commission came to investigate questions of soil economy. On Wednesday by special train they went to Ipswich where they listened to representatives of the Farmers' Co-operative society and to inspect Lord Ralleigh's famous dry farm at Purfina.

Yesterday they investigated the work of the Co-operative Wholesale Society of London and lunched with the directors. They will meet the officers of the numerous societies at University College, Bangor, Wales today, and will reach Dublin tomorrow morning.

SHOWER OF ROCKS IMPEDES COURSE OF MOUNTAIN TRAINS

C.N.R. Graders Send Avalanche of Road Metal Onto G.T.P. Track.

Fitzhugh, July 11—The Grand Trunk Pacific is encountering considerable difficulty in getting their trains through on time between here and Tete Jaune Cache. Four times during the past few days avalanches of rock have been precipitated onto the track which has required several hours to clear away before the trains can proceed.

The avalanches of rock and clay are due to the blasting of the C.N.R. on its right of way where that road skirts the cliffs above the G.T.P. track, every blast hurling large quantities onto the tracks below.

Watchmen are stationed all along the route to give warning when a train is about to be set off, and also to arrange for clearing the debris from the tracks.

WHERE IS JOE GAGE?

Joe Gage of 205 Kinistino avenue, is reported to the city police as being missing. At least R. Summers told them that Gage had left his home early Wednesday morning with the intention of searching for bodies in the river and not turned up. Some fears are expressed as to his safety. He is 5 ft. 11, clean shaven, fair hair, and was dressed in blue overalls when he left his house.

Athabasca, July 11.—H. A. Barrow has been awarded the contract for the erection of a solid brick school house here. The structure will cost $80,000.

DUCHESS CANNOT EVEN GET MONEY

Belgian King Will Not Give Up Cash on Vessel Stranded on Way to Overthrow Portuguese Republic

Munich, July 11.—The Post publishes a story to the effect that a ship was recently fitted out with arms and ammunition by the Duchess Carl Theodore of Bavaria for an attempt against the Portuguese republic. The duchess also supplied a large sum of money which was abandoned with the vessel.

The ship started out from London for Lisbon, but was stranded on the Belgian coast. The duchess has appealed to the Belgian king, who is her son-in-law, to give up at least the cash, but King Albert has refused.

The Post asserts that several banks have undertaken obligations to support ex-King Manuel in case the republic is overthrown.

COMMISSION EXPERTS AS "ABOVE THE LAW"

Railway Engineers Are Told Not to Give Testimony Even at the Request of the Coroner.

Ottawa, July 11—Whether or not the operating and engineering experts of the railway commission are privileged in their investigation and "above the law," inasmuch as they are not required to make the results of them public even at the demand of a coroner's jury, is a point at issue in the inquest now proceeding into the recent wreck on the Canadian Pacific railway. The railway board, it has been learned, has notified G. A. Mountain, its chief engineer, not to testify.

"I understand it is desired that Mr. Mountain testify, but the board considers his investigations for its ears alone," said a press representative to Assistant Commissioner Scholl.

"That's right," said Mr. Scholl, in reply, "our officers do not examine for the benefit of the public and they are not called upon to testify in an inquest. We couldn't get the information, the railroad company would not give it to us, if it were so."

SASKATCHEWAN GOING TO LONDON TO SELL BONDS

Not Decided How Large the Debentures Will Be, For That Will Depend Upon the Market.

Winnipeg, July 11.—In order to negotiate a bond issue of the Saskatchewan government, Hon. A. Turgeon, attorney general, and Hon. A. H. McNab, minister of public works, are going to London. They passed through the city last night. Mr. Justice Lamont, of the Supreme court of Saskatchewan, is going with them.

Mr. Turgeon said that the government had not decided how large the debentures would be. That would depend on the market, and on other contingencies. He remarked that he expected Saskatchewan would do as well as Manitoba did with its issue.

It is several years since Saskatchewan last applied to the London money market.

PANAMA RAILROAD BOAT FIRST THROUGH CANAL

Water Will Be Let Into the Culebra Cut in October and Then the Final Work Will Be Done.

Panama, July 11.—Colonel Goethals announced yesterday the first boat to go through the canal would be a Panama railroad ship and he says the water will be let into Culebra cut early in October, and immediately afterward the final work will be made.

ARMIES OBSERVE TACIT ARMISTICE SINCE YESTERDAY

On Eve of Peace Roumania Declares War on Bulgarians.

ROUMANIAN TROOPS CROSS THE DANUBE

New Factor in Fight Expected to Hasten Consummation of Agreement Between Powers for Arbitration.

Vienna, July 11.—A despatch from Belgrade reports that an order for the cessation of hostilities between the various armies in the Balkans is expected immediately. It says that a tacit armistice had been in existence at most points since yesterday.

Roumania Declares War.

London, July 11.—The King of Roumania has declared war on Bulgaria. The Roumanian minister to Bulgaria has been recalled. The Sofia correspondent of the Times sends this announcement earl ythis morning.

Roumania Opens Hostilities.

Bucharest, July 11.—Roumanian troops today occupied the Bulgarian city of Silistria, on the right bank of the Danube. They were not opposed by the Bulgarians.

Main Army Crosses Danube.

Bucharest, July 11.—The invasion of Bulgaria by the main army of Roumania began at 11.30 a.m. today. The first detachment of the army had crossed the Danube and landed on the Bulgarian shore at that hour.

Roumania Wants a Slice.

Bucharest, July 11.—The Roumanian government decided yesterday to notify the Bulgarian government that the Roumanian army would cross into Bulgarian territory and also that Roumania would take part in the discussion of the final partition of the territories of what was formerly European Turkey.

Roumania's Action Will Hasten Peace.

London, July 11.—The Roumanian declaration of war on Bulgaria is expected here to assist in bringing to an end the carnage in the Balkans by forcing speedy action on the part of the powers who have been invited to intervene.

The object of King Charles of Roumania in assuming the part of a belligerent is to strengthen Roumania's claim to participate in the ultimate sharing out of territory in the Balkan peninsula. For the present Roumania, it is thought, will probably content herself with occupying the strip of Bulgarian territory from Turtukai, on the Danube, to Baltchik, on the Black Sea, including the city of Silistria.

She has coveted this for a long time and it is believed she will accomplish her object under the prevailing conditions without Bulgarian resistance.

Greeks Score Another Victory.

London, July 11.—Greek troops today occupied Demir-Hissar, 12 miles northwest of Seres after a brilliant victory over the Bulgarians, who had been in possession since they won it from the Turks in the recent war, according to an exchange telegraph company's dispatches from Athens. The Bulgarians fled, abandoning their field guns, ammunition and provisions.

A telegram to the same agency from Constantinople says it is announced by the newspapers that Midia, the town on the Black Sea which was to form the eastern end of the future frontier line between Bulgaria and Turkey, is in flames.

More Bulgarian Repulses.

Belgrade, July 11—Official despatches give the results of small engagements on the Servian frontier in which the Bulgarians were repulsed.

The situation in the Istip district remains unchanged. The Bulgarians are reported to be burning villages.

SUNSHINE ALONE NECESSARY NOW TO IMMENSE YIELD

Crops Looking Splendid.

Regina, July 11—The Regina district was visited by a refreshing rain yesterday and it is again raining slightly today. Crops are looking splendid around this district. There has been plenty of moisture and continued warm weather is more to be desired now rather than more rain. Farmers are looking for a record yield.

Prince Albert, Sask., July 11—Heavy and steady rain all afternoon and evening will freshen the crops, but it was unnecessary. Ample moisture is here now to secure the crop and the filling of low lands will interfere with haying.

ECZEMA ITCHED AND BURNED

Until She was Nearly Crazy, Began with Watery Blisters. On Ears, Eyes, Hands and Ankles. Could Not Sleep for Scratching. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Cured.

"Brunswick St., Fredericton, N. B.—"I had a very bad case of eczema. The trouble began with watery blisters and itched and burned until I was nearly crazy. It was on my ears, eyes, hands and ankles. I could not keep the bed clothes over me at night for the smarting and itching. My ears would swell. I would scratch until the blood would run and then form a scab. I felt as if I could take a knife and cut the flesh on my hands. It would disfigure my face and make it smart and burn and swell. I could not sleep at night for scratching.

"I tried everything I heard of without getting any benefit. I used lots of home remedies, such as lard and sulphur, and also was treated for it. Then I tried Cuticura Soap and Ointment and they gave me great ease. I used them about four months and I am happy to say I am never troubled now. The Cuticura Soap and Ointment cured me completely." (Signed) Mrs. A. S. Thompson, Mar. 9, 1912.

The regular use of Cuticura Soap for toilet and bath not only tends to preserve, purify and beautify the skin, scalp, hair and hands, but assists in preventing inflammation, irritation and clogging of the pores, the common causes of pimples, blackheads, redness and roughness, yellow, oily, mothy and other unwholesome conditions of the skin. Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment are sold throughout the world. Liberal sample of each mailed free with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post card Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Dept. 44D, Boston, U. S. A.

AMERICAN CROPS IN MANY STATES BELOW AVERAGE

Drought and Early Frost Are Given as the Causes in Some States.

CALIFORNIA SHOWS LOWEST CONDITION

North Dakota, New Hampshire and South Dakota also Away Down — Wyoming Shows General Average Gain.

Washington, July 11.—Drought and early frost in certain parts of the country brought the average condition of crops in the United States on July 1 down to nearly one per cent. lower than on the same date last year, and to 1.7 lower than the average crop conditions on July 1 for some years past, 10 years in most cases.

Conditions are below the average, the department of agriculture announced yesterday in the Atlantic coast and the north central statistics except Virginia, Florida, Ohio, Wisconsin, Iowa and Nebraska. They are always above the average in the south central and far western states, except Kentucky, Alabama, Montana, Utah and California.

The lowest conditions are found in California, where July 1 found the crops 15.7 per cent. below the average. North Dakota's crops are 14.7 per cent. below; New Hampshire's 13.6 per cent., and South Dakota's 11.1 per cent. Wyoming is highest above average with 9.3 per cent., followed by Nebraska 7.7, Texas 6, Washington 5.5, Oregon 5.2 and Iowa 5.1 per cent.

Corn shows the most flourishing conditions, standing at 103.5 or 3.5 per cent. above its 10-year average. Other crops show the following average. Hemp, 103.3; hops, 103.1; winter wheat, 102.1; cotton, 102; alfalfa, 101; cantaloupes, 101.5; Kaffir corn, 101.1; apples, 100.5; beans (dry), 100.3; sugar beets, 100.3; rice, 99.9; sweet potatoes, 98.6; sugar cane, 98.2; onions, 98.1; hay (all cultivated kinds), 97.9; tobacco, 97.6; potatoes, 97; flax, 94; peaches, 93.7; pasture, 91.4; oats, 90.3.

GALT MAN PURCHASES EDMONTON BOX FACTORY

Mr. H. P. Kennedy, owner of Kennedale, Industrial Heights and Industrial View, left last night for his home in Toronto, after spending about two and a half months in Edmonton.

During his sojourn in the city Mr. Kennedy has had about six and a half miles of streets opened up and graded in his properties in the northeast end. Has also let a contract for the building of about one and a half miles of sidewalk in Industrial Heights, Kennedale and Industrial View.

Mr. Kennedy has disposed of the Edmonton Casket & Box Co. Ltd., to T. R. Dando, formerly of Galt, Ont., who has had wide experience in the manufacturing business, covering a period of about 25 years, in Toronto, Hamilton and Galt, Ont. Mr. Dando expects to be in a position to commence manufacturing in the course of a few days.

Mr. Kennedy has also signed a contract for the erection of a large brick block in which Mr. W. Hitchie, well-known locally, will open a general store.

While Mr. Kennedy is in the east he will interview several large manufacturing concerns with a view to having them locate in these properties.

LOSES SECOND ELECTION.

Berlin, July 11.—Herr Von Kroecher, conservative, who was elected to the Reichstag in January, 1912, from the Salzwedel district, but whose election was annulled on account of the irregularity, was today defeated in a second election, by Dr. Boehme, Peasants league.

ROUMANIAN KING DECLARES WAR ON DEFEATED BULGARS

With War Over Roumania Declares Herself in on the Spoils.

TROOPS CROSS DANUBE TO OCCUPY TERRITORY

Appearance of New Beligerent Likely to Hasten Peace — Bulgarians War Plan Fails.

St. Petersburg Hopeful For Peace.

St. Petersburg, July 11—A distinctly hopeful view is expressed today by the Russian press and in official circles in regard to the Balkan situation. Peace is regarded generally as imminent on account of the crippling of the Bulgarian army and the severe losses sustained by Servia. The Russian red cross society have decided not to send any detachments of doctors, nurses and ambulance men to the front.

London, July 11—All the combatants in the new Balkan war, after the recent enormous losses, seem ready to welcome an armistice for peace, but none is yet credited with definite advance toward this end except Bulgaria. That the latter appealed to Russia to arrange an armistice is announced so definitely from Paris and Vienna as to create general confidence in its accuracy.

News despatches from Paris received here say the statement is officially confirmed, but there is no direct news about it from St. Petersburg. The British foreign office professes ignorance of the matter and there is nothing about it from Sofia.

According to the Paris version, Russia has acceded to Bulgaria's appeal and will approach Servia and Greece immediately with a view to arranging an immediate truce, after which negotiations will begin for a permanent settlement.

By Roumania's Action.

While all the Balkan despatches assert that Bulgaria has been beaten to the knees by the Servian and Greek armies, the road to Sofia is declared now to be open, and it is possible that Bulgaria's appeal to the Czar, assuming it to be true, has been prompted as much or more by Roumania's action than by the advances of the Greeks. The Roumanian mobilization has advanced far enough to enable that country to move a large part of its army.

According to reports from Vienna, a Roumanian detachment crossed the Bulgarian frontier yesterday afternoon. Rumors that Roumania was awaiting to see whether or not it would pay her better to attack Bulgaria or the Greeks and Servians, have now disappeared, and she seems content to use the occasion to wring from Bulgaria all the territory she claimed as a reward for her neutrality during the war between Turkey and the Balkans, but of which the arbitration at St. Petersburg gave her only a small part.

A report of the Post at Bucharest telegraphs that Roumania's mobilization will be completed tonight. She will want four more days for the concentration of troops and then the passage of the Danube will mark a new chapter in the history of southeastern Europe. The Danube will be crossed next week.

There was an ominous absence of any news from Sofia last night, but all dispatches from Servian and Greece centres report fresh disasters to the Bulgarians.

The Servians and Greeks are said to have joined forces at Radovitch, 15 miles from Istip, and are pursuing the Bulgarians.

A Greek Bulgarian division under General Ivanoff, variously said to number from 24,000 to 50,000 men is reported to have been cut off by the victory and to have surrendered en masse. This, as usual, needs confirmation.

A Greek fleet bombarded and captured Kavala, and the Greeks north of Salonika are reported to be still advancing with great success and conquering many guns. Strumitza fell to them yesterday.

It is reported from Belgrade that a great battle is on at Kustendell, 15 miles within the Bulgarian frontier, and 30 miles from Sofia. This is also not confirmed.

The king received many messages of congratulation, particularly from monasteries, who called the king the avenger of the many deeds committed by the Bulgarians on thousands of innocent Turks.

Among the papers found at Kilkish were two despatches from the Bulgarian general, Thoron, dated last November, pretending that Salonika had been taken by the Bulgarians and depicting their triumphal entry into the city. The Port of Kavala on the Aegean Sea, was occupied yesterday by the Greek fleet. Three torpedo boats entered the port.

AMERICAN IN CONTROL LONDON MEAT MARKET

Application of the Armours for Two Shops in Smithfield Are Granted by the Common Council.

London, July 11—American control in the London meat market was established by the London common council yesterday. The proposal to let two shops in Smithfield market to Armour and company of Chicago, was opposed by a member who complained there had been a combination of American, Argentine and England to keep the prices of meat at a high figure.

Other speakers defended Armour and company and contended that the American companies were good friends of the poor, enabling the poor to buy cheaply.

The Armours application was then granted unanimously.

VETERAN OF BOER WAR WHO LOST HEALTH ON THE VELDT TELLS EXPERIENCE.

Good Advice for All Who Have Indigestion or Stomach Disorders.

In his home at Waldegrove, N.S., no one is better known than Sergt.-Major Cross, late of the 4th Queen's Own Hussars. Speaking of the ill-effects of a campaign upon a man's constitution, the Sergt.-Major writes: "I served under General French during the late Boer war, in the capacity of Sergt.-Major. It was perhaps owing to a continued diet of bully beef, hard tack, and bad water, but at any rate my stomach entirely gave out. I was in such a state that I could eat nothing without the greatest suffering. The army doctors did not help me much, and since leaving the service I have been very miserable. Some few months ago a friend told me he had been a great sufferer from indigestion until he tried Dr. Hamilton's Pills; they cured him. I confess it was without much faith I bought a box, but the first dose made me feel better than I had been for a long time. Dr. Hamilton's Pills completely cured me, and now I can eat everything and anything. I have recommended them to others and in every case the result has been similar to mine."

Quick, sure results attend the use of Dr. Hamilton's Pills. They cure disorders of the stomach, correct indigestion, make you feel uplifted and strengthened. To renew or maintain health, Dr. Hamilton's Pills always prove a good prescription. 25c per box, five boxes for $1.00, all dealers, or the Catarrhozone Co., Buffalo, N. Y., and Kingston, Ont.

FIVE LANGUAGES AT RECEPTION OF PAPAL DELEGATE

Many Nationalities Represented Among the Thousand Presented.

JUDGE BECK PRESIDES; MAYOR ON PLATFORM

English, French, German, Ruthenian and Polish Tongues Used in Addresses of Appreciation Delivered.

The blessing of the corner stone of the new Sacred Heart church on Kinistino avenue, will take place on Sunday afternoon at 3.30 o'clock. His Excellency, Mgr. Stagni, will officiate.

Catholics of at least five different nationalities, and a representative body of Protestant citizens, headed by Mayor Short, united in doing honor to Mgr Stagni, the papal delegate, at the public reception, held under the auspices of the Catholic Association of Alberta, in the Empire auditorium last night. The huge auditorium was crowded, and it was estimated that over 1,000 kissed the hand of his excellency at the close of the reception. Mr. Justice Beck presided, and he was accompanied on the platform by Mayor Short, Archbishop Legal, the Bishop of the Sandwich Islands, A. F. Ewing, J. Picard, J. Cormad and J. Malone.

In his opening address, Mr. Justice Beck stated that to introduce Mgr Stangi would be superfluous, as his excellency was the direct representative of the Pope, and the independency of a father to his children could hardly be considered necessary. Mgr Stagni had decided to visit the large diocese of Edmonton, said Mr. Beck, as the result of a desire to become personally acquainted with the huge country over which his jurisdiction extended, and which included the whole dominion of Canada. As an example of the diversity of the peoples over whom Mgr Stagni ruled, Mr. Beck referred to the fact that addresses would be delivered in five different languages—English, French, German, Ruthenian and Polish.

Mr. Beck expressed great pleasure at the presence of Mayor Short, as the representative of the municipality, and of the non-Catholic community.

On behalf of the English speaking Catholics of Edmonton and the surrounding districts, an address of welcome was presented by T. P. Malone. Mr. Malone stated that the visit of Mgr Stagni was the source of great pleasure to the Catholics of the city, proving, as it did, the personal interest which his excellency took in the work being done. Rapid as was the growth of Edmonton, said Mr. Malone, the development of the Catholic church in the city had fully kept pace with it, and they now had churches, schools, hospitals and other religious institutions which were a credit to the members of the faith. Despite Edmonton's exceedingly short history, said Mr. Malone, there was now every institution in the city necessary for the spiritual welfare of the community.

The address of welcome on behalf of the French Canadian people was delivered by Wilfrid Gariepy. Mr. Gariepy also dealt with the growth of the Catholic church in the district, referring to the time, not so long ago, when the diocese of St. Albert was formed as a remote outpost of the church. Since then, Mr. Gariepy stated amid loud applause, the diocese had been altered to the diocese of the metropolitan see of Edmonton. On behalf of the Ruthenians an address was delivered by William Swyegh, who referred to the keen satisfaction which existed among the Ruthenian community, at the appointment of a bishop of their own.

Mayor Short stated that it gave him keen pleasure to welcome Mgr Stagni, not only on behalf of the municipality and the Catholics who were members of it, but also on behalf of their non-Catholic fellow citizens. Although the people of Edmonton were of many faiths and of many nationalities, Mayor Short stated that they were uniting in building up their common heritage. In this effort, said his worship, they were succeeding, largely because the people of Edmonton had cast behind them all petty differences, and were co-operating in a spirit of broad tolerance.

Mayor Short, in referring to the pleasure which he took in Mgr. Stagni's visit, stated that, in all his travels his excellency could not have seen a fairer country than the Canadian west, or a city where the problems of welding all new communities were being more ambitiously or more successfully dealt with.

Dealing with the part which the Catholic population had played in the building up of Edmonton, Mayor Short stated that, years ago, when he had been endeavoring to lay the foundations of the city's present prosperity, he had been greatly assisted by two members of the Catholic faith, Messrs. Gallagher and Picard, who had sat side by side with him, and co-operated in every movement brought forward for the development of the city. At the present time, said Mayor Short, two other members of the faith were members of the city council, Messrs. Walsh and Driscoll were ably following in the footsteps of their predecessors, in the work of developing the city.

Mgr. Stagni replied to the address of welcome in French and English, stating that he had a fair acquaintance with German so far as reading the language was concerned, but he could not attempt to deliver an address in it. His excellency added that he was rather handicapped in addressing such a gathering, for never before in his experience—and he was not an unlettered man—had he spoken to a gathering where so many different nationalities were represented.

Referring to the fact that a great number of his audience had come from the older countries of Europe, Mgr. Stagni stated that his native city was perhaps the oldest of them all, Rome, the Eternal City, and his excellency, was twice over the mother of modern civilization, for it had been the founder both of pagan and Christian culture.

Mgr. Stagni dealt at some length with the question of Catholic citizenship. Catholics, said his excellency, were not in the habit of quoting the scriptures with such frequency as were certain other sects, but they remembered that there was a passage which gave the injunction, "Honor the king." Loyalty to properly constituted authority, said Mgr. Stagni, was an essential part of the creed of every Catholic, for that authority was really given by God. It was therefore the duty of all Catholics, whether Canadians by birth or not, to be loyal to the country of their adoption. The better Catholic a man was, said Mgr. Stagni, the better citizen he could become. His excellency added that a bad Catholic generally proved himself a good-for-nothing citizen.

The necessity for the setting of a high moral standard of living by Catholics was emphasized by Mgr. Stagni, who stated that silence, coupled by a good example, was of infinitely more value than much talking without that example.

The spirit of broad minded tolerance, which is such a marked characteristic of the west, was eulogised by Mgr. Stagni, who stated that the freedom enjoyed here would occasion no little envy among friends and relations of many members of the audience, who had remained in Europe. There were many European institutions, said his excellency, which were well worthy of being introduced into Canada, but there were others which were best left at home. Of qualities in the latter category, said Mgr. Stagni, European settlers had done well to leave behind them the intolerance which, unfortunately exists in some countries in the old world.

Referring to the appointment of the Ruthenian bishop, Mgr. Stagni states that the appointment had long been considered by the heads of the church. The election of a Ruthenian bishop, said his excellency, was rendered necessary by the fact that, while the Ruthenians held exactly the same faith as did their other Catholic brethren, yet certain ancient rites were reserved by them and were recognized by the church. As it was not proper for a priest of the Roman rite to take part in the Ruthenian rites, the separate appointment had been necessary.

The Great July Clearance and Rebuilding Sale Continues with Interest Unabated

Take a look at the roof of our store—you can see the rafters on all sides—there's going to be another storey. If you could go up on our roof and see the dozens of men with hammers, saws, wheelbarrows, etc., as busy as bees, you would realize for a certainty that we have got to hustle ourselves to give them more room. Then every day sees our new addition still further towards its handsome six storeys—contractors will want to move us into this new store very soon now. And then they'll commence pounding merrily away in this building—changing walls, installing new elevators, putting in the beautiful new fixtures, and generally rejuvenating things. We've got to lessen our stocks tremendously to give them "elbow room" and prevent them from spoiling our merchandise. That's the reason for this stupendous Rebuilding Sale—and the July Clearance adds to the interest in a great measure. Come tomorrow—there's scores of wonderful bargains that we haven't the space to advertise—maybe just the things you want most.

Here's the One Big Reason for these Low Prices

BUSINESS PERFORMANCE NOT UP TO ADVANCE NOTICES.

Mayor Short continues, through his supporting organs, to give out interviews intended to convey the idea that the financial concussion which the city received through the "war clause" telegram is in some unexplained manner an indictment against the bond buyers.

As a matter of fact, the more the incidents are looked into, the more it is apparent that "big business" and "camera methods," as applied to the city's administration, have fallen down lamentably upon the very first big test, and as an evidence of business capacity the fall down has been of a nature which would not have been overlooked by his superiors in a bank messenger.

Looking at the matter in the most dispassionate manner, it must be admitted that the mayor showed most remarkable assurance, not to say "nerve," when he undertook to withhold from the city council the fact that he had received a cablegram of any kind pertaining to a matter of such large importance as a five and a half million balance on the loan. No one but a complete convert to the camera system of administration could have done such a thing and justified it to himself. But Edmonton's present mayor is a camera-system man, and he has placed the muffler upon every department, advising all superintendents, police-authorities and all civic employees of all kinds that under no circumstances must the public be allowed to know how the public business is progressing. As the mayor sees it, newspaper reporters, the eyes of the public, are taboo, and only after the most rigid censorship, guaranteeing his own interpretation, must the public receive any reports.

With this mental slant toward secretiveness it is, therefore, not altogether strange that the mayor should come to the conclusion that no one among those who had been elected as trustees of the city's welfare should be permitted to know of what was going forward except himself.

But having, by his secretiveness, limited the responsibility to himself, it is still understandable how a man of the mayor's much-advertised business capacity could leave such an important matter unattended to for two whole weeks, until awakened with a rude jolt intended to bring him to a realization that the kind of people who have eleven millions, odd, at stake are likely to become a trifle vexed when they feel that the people into whose hands they have entrusted the money are too indifferent to even answer a telegram.
they have entrusted the money are too indiffer to even answer a telegram.

Certainly the mayor's performance in this matter does not live up to his advance notices as a man of big business.

BONAR LAW'S CLAP-TRAP ON HOME RULE.

For a man who has been elevated to the position of leader of one of the great historic parties in the Imperial house, Bonar Law talks a great deal of cheap clap-trap.

In reference to the home rule bill he attempts to make it appear that the Asquith government is forcing self government upon Ireland in the face of the protest of the Irish people against it, something which, he says, was never done in any other part of the empire, and quotes Canada as an example to show that the imperial government had its choice only between giving Canada complete self government or no self government at all.

As a matter of fact, Bonar Law's candidate was defeated in Ulster, the very part of Ireland which he declares is protesting against home rule, while the home government not only did have a half-way in the matter of autonomy for Canada, but maintained this half-way for years and only succumbed to popular demand for complete autonomy after the country had reached a stage of open rebellion in which the country was more acutely divided than ever Ireland was. In the settlement of the difficulty the majority demands were granted by the accession of a complete autonomy, more complete than that offered Ireland, while the minority who, previous to that time, had been the predominating class in the country saw their family compact fade and their minority rule disappear from the country altogether.

As Canadians we do not like to dwell very extensively upon this stage of our history, but nevertheless Canadians have elevated William Lyon MacKenzie to a place of heroism and patriotism.

THE PROBABLE REASON WHY AUDITOR IS GUN-SHY

City Auditor Richardson declares that he is not a candidate for the office of commissioner for which he has been nominated by a member of the council. Do you blame him?

If the auditor became a member of the commission board as at present constituted the fact that he is a financial man would associate him in the public mind with the city's finance. But with the board acting under the authority which it now has he could not control the finance. Any other commissioner would have quite as much to say as he would have upon any question of finance and the auditor would be equally responsible, in turn, with any other member of the board for any dereliction in any other department. The inevitable result would be that the auditor would either have to dominate the commission in order to get his own way in the matter of finance, or he would have to accept responsibility and censure as the financial man on the board for acts which did not correspond with his ideas. From where he sits, as auditor, he has no doubt seen enough of the city's affairs to have recognized this incompatibility already, and, recognizing it, he is gun-shy when they start out to hunt for a man who can give the city's finances the attention they deserve.

EVIDENCE FROM THE MOST AUTHENTIC SOURCE

Bank clearings for the week show another gain of half a million over the same period last year, an evidence from the most reliable and authentic source that business in this city is not showing the falling off that characterizes the returns of other cities east and west. The weather conditions for the growing crops have been ideal for more than a month past and reports from the country indicate that the harvest, barring unusual conditions in August and September, is already assured.

The building trade, although not as good as it might have been had there been more loan money available, is nevertheless holding up well with last year's record and the railway construction to the north and west is more active than at any time since the transcontinentals reached this city and commenced to push the head of steel into the country beyond.

For those who may feel a sensation of distrust in the future because speculation in real estate is not as rampant as a year ago, a placid consideration of the conditions prevailing in the mercantile and industrial branches may assist to the conclusion that possibly it is better thus.

POSSIBILITIES FOR TROUBLE AND PROBABILITIES FOR PEACE

Bulgaria having appealed for peace, the real test of the European understanding to not interfere commences. So long as the nations were content to fight it out Europe could look with comparative placidity. But when it comes to a case of dividing the spoils it is a different matter.

Ferdinand of Bulgaria has always been regarded as more or less of a protege of the Russian Czar. France offers to arbitrate in Bulgaria's behalf. The arrangement may suit Russia admirably, but may not suit Germany nearly as well. The possibilities of the situation for further trouble are immense, but the probabilities are for peace.

SCRAP BOOK TODAY

SEMI-CENTENARY OF NEW YORK'S "DRAFT RIOTS."

Half a century ago Lee and his army, defeated on Gettysburg's bloody field, were retreating, and Vicksburg, with 27,000 prisoners, was in the possession of General Grant. These victories naturally caused great jubilation in the north, yet there were many to whom the news brought sorrow rather than joy. These northern foes of the union were enrolled in a secret society of southern sympathizers called the Knights of the Golden Circle, which had local branches or "castles" in both east and west, as well as in the south.

Just 50 years ago today, July 11, 1863, the western "knights" held a meeting in Springfields, Ill., when it was resolved to make the drafting of "all able-bodied male citizens of the United States, between the ages of 18 and 45," as provided in the enrollment act, the occasion of revolution. In the west the "knights" decided to aid Morgan, the confederate officer who was then raiding Indiana and Ohio. It was supposed that the "knights" and the peace faction would join Morgan by thousands, but in this they were mistaken. Morgan was captured and confined in the Ohio penitentiary, from which he made a sensational escape, only to be captured the following year and shot.

In New York the propaganda of the Knights of the Golden Circle resulted in the draft riots. The provost-general of New York was instructed by the president to begin the drafting of men on July 11, 1863. The streets of the metropolis swarmed with police, as serious trouble was expected, but the eleventh passed quietly, without serious disturbances. The newspapers of the following morning published the names of the conscripts. Among them were many poor men, the sole supports of large families, and such men quite naturally lent a sympathetic ear to the appeals of the "knights," of whom there were said to be 50,000 in New York. The first conscription took place on Saturday, and the workingmen had Sunday to think it over, and to listen to the anti-Union agitators. On Monday various processions of laboring men and "knights" marched to the place of conscription. The place was attacked and fired, and the flames wiped out the entire block.

There were no troops at hand, and the city was in the power of the mob. The incendiaries, now increased tenfold, began plundering and slaying. Private residences were looted, citizens were maltreated, and some tortured to death. New York was in the throes of a reign of terror. Fifty marines bravely charged the mob, but were overpowered by the force of numbers, and became the objects of the cruel sport of the rioters. The police were dealt with in the same way.

"Down with the niggers!" was heard all over the city, and the colored people were marked out for especially brutal treatment. Black women were stripped of their clothes and subjected to the grossest treatment. The Colored Orphan asylum was burned and the children turned into the streets. "To hell with the Union!" and "Hurrah for Jeff Davis and Lee!" were other battle cries of the rioters.

Militia from Pennsylvania were hastened to the city and aided the police in restoring order. During the three days of the terrible orgy nearly 1,000 people were killed or wounded, and property worth $2,000,000 destroyed. In the following month the draft was resumed and completed without further trouble.

FIRST THINGS.

The first successful sewing machine was the invention of Elias Howe, who was born at Spencer, Mass., ninety-four years ago today. After a meager country school education he became a mechanic, and he was only a youth when he began his efforts to invent a method of sewing by machine. English, French and American inventors held similar ambitions, but their machines were not successful. A machine that would really sew was completed by Howe in 1845 and patented the following year. For years he sought, both in America and England, to bring his machine to public attention. In the meantime others began the manufacture of machines, and Howe was forced to appeal to the courts. In 1854 he attained success in his legal battle, and built a factory with a capacity of 100 machines a day at Bridgeport, Conn. Royalties from his invention made him a multi-millionaire before he died in 1867. Plans for honoring Howe on the occasion of the centenary of his birth, six years hence, are already being considered.

A SHADY VALLEY.

In the valley of the Lyn, near Lynmouth, North Devon, England, there is a quiet little hamlet called Middleham, where for three months in the year the sun is not seen.

The cluster of houses forming the hamlet is surrounded on all sides by hills so steep and high that from November until February the sun does not rise high enough to be seen over their tops.

The first appearance of the sun is eagerly looked for, and as it is first seen on February 14, the inhabitants call it their valentine.

If the day should be foggy or cloudy, so that it cannot be seen, there is great disappointment. For the few days after the 14th the sun is seen only for a very short time, but as the sun rises higher in the heavens the time it is in sight increases daily until its height is reached, when it gradually begins to fade from view until in November it entirely vanishes from sight for another three months.

QUALIFIED.

Baron—You have called to secure the position of porter? Applicant—Yes, sir. Baron—Was there not some one in the anteroom as you came in? Applicant—There was, sir. There was a man with a bill against you, Herr Baron, but I threw him out.—Fliegende Blatter.

HARRISON—FACEY.

A very pretty house wedding occurred on Wednesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Facey, Ninth street, when the daughter of the house, Jessie Loretta, was united in marriage to Mr. Humphrye William Harrison, accountant of the Imperial bank. The bride, given away by her father, wore a gown of white silk and carried a bouquet of bridav roses. The officiating clergyman was the Rev. W. E. McNiven of McDougall church.

After the ceremony, the bridal party and the guests sat down to a wedding supper. The tables were nicely decorated with white carnations and smilax. Mr. and Mrs. Harrison left on the evening train for Birch Lake, where they will spend their honeymoon, afterwards returning to town to live.

CANADIAN CITIES ARE IN LINE FOR SOCIAL SURVEYS

Facts of City Conditions Considered as Basis for Civic Progress.

UNDERTAKING OUGHT BE COMMUNITY ENTERPRISE

Municipal Efficiency Is One of the Subjects Investigated Under This Idea of Getting the Best for the People.

By Shelby M. Harrison.
Director, Department Surveys and Exhibits, Russell Sage Foundation.
(Exclusive service The Survey Press Bureau.)

"Know your city" is a slogan that stands for the new civic point of view. "Facing hard facts for the sake of the future" is now recognized as the first step in making our cities, towns and villages better places in which to live. The day of boasted bigness, of superficial pride, and of unintelligent complacency is passing. The day of the social survey as a scientific way a city may know itself, is at hand. Leading citizens and organizations, who once looked askance at "exposures" and "muck-raking," have come to understand the constructive value of a survey and now take active part in efforts to have one made in their locality.

Since 1909, when the first reports appeared of the Pittsburgh Survey, the first undertaking of the kind in the United States, cities in two-thirds of the states have become interested. Nearly a score of cities have actually completed surveys. So great became the interest, and so urgent the desire for scientific thoroughness in the work, that the Russell Sage Foundation last October, organized a department of surveys and exhibits. In these nine months over 100 cities—from Halifax to San Diego, and Atlanta to Indian Head, Saskatchewan—have asked for surveys or advice in starting local survey movements. In many cases requests are backed by local commercial organizations, chambers of commerce and boards of trade. Business men are recognizing the commercial value of healthier, better and more comfortable developing conditions for all the city's dwellers.

Essence of the Idea.

The essence of the survey idea rests on a recognition of important changes in human relationships due to tremendous industrial development, the city-ward movement, immigration, the influx of women in industry and other causes. With these changes have come new problems calling for new diagnosis and study to learn whether the old machinery for individual and social advance is fitting the new needs, whether the community has been keeping abreast of scientific progress. We have been experimenting with instruments to set at, register and interpret the situation. The creation of the new department in the Russel Sage Foundation may be regarded as recognizing in a new and larger way than heretofore the survey as an organized method of or social discovery and the exhibit as an agency for popular interpretation. Their usefulness has been demonstrated as means to be employed in auditing present efficiency, in securing corrective action and in constructive planning for the future.

The responses of the department of surveys and exhibits to the requests from cities have been determined by several factors—chiefly, the timeliness of the proposed survey and its probable influence on other cities. As to timeliness, consideration is made of the probability of the project being adequately financed and of its receiving representative local backing. If a city cannot see sufficient value in a survey to be willing to pay for it, especially when all overhead charges are borne by an outside organization, it is considered not ready for a survey.

Moreover, the undertaking should be a community enterprise, aimed to advance the well-being not of any particular interest or set of interests, but of the community as generally as possible.

Effort of the Survey.

The survey is an effort toward a democratic solution of the local problems, and therefore must be shouldered by representatives of all interests and groups in the population. Emphasis has been laid upon the importance of the work being done by persons with adequate training and experience. Emphasis has also been placed upon the importance of cooperation with national organizations, so that the local program following the survey, whether it involves housing, or ganized charity, prison reform, or other special effort, will be in harmony with the standards set up by the national organizations in the various fields.

The question has sometimes been raised: "Why make surveys over and over again in cities all over the country? Won't a few sample surveys cover practically all the city problems and thus supply to all cities the proper programs for improvement?" But conditions vary in different cities, and the citizens of one locality will not be convinced of a local public health or recreation problem merely because some other city in a distant state has one. Each city will not and should not be satisfied unless the study is made of its own actual conditions.

The surveys conducted by the department of surveys and exhibits have thus far taken four general forms. The first is a quick neighborhood study to gather such salient facts as many indicate some of the principal social and civic needs. Such a neighborhood survey was made, for example, in a district in Old Brooklyn, comprising over 100,000 people. One of the results of this study was the organization of the Old Brooklyn Civic league, with a paid social worker now in charge of its constructive program.

The second type is a "path finder's survey"—a brief but city-wide examination to discover the facts that may indicate the need of the later more intensive survey, and the main lines which the latter should take. The department has made pathfinder's surveys in Topeka, Kas., Springfield, Ill., Scranton, Pa., Ithaca, N.Y., and Atlanta, Ga. In a few of these cities certain parts of the investigation proceeded beyond the mere preliminary stage.

Intensive General Surveys.

The third type is the more intensive general survey. The best exam, le among those conducted by the department in the last few months in the Newburgh survey. This covered public schools, public health work, charities, delinquency, municipal efficiency, industrial conditions, housing and recreation.

The fourth type is a more specialized investigation confined to the field of public health and sanitation. The wide relation of health work to all problems involving a city's people has led to the inclusion of such investigations within the scope of the department's activities. The most recent example is the investigation of the work of the department of public health of Newark, N.J., a city of 350,000 people. This was undertaken at the request of the municipal authorities.

With the survey idea firmly established, it seems probable that in the future cities will themselves carry on continuous survey work, so as always to have at hand the up-to-date facts of their social, civic and economic conditions. If programs to remedy or prevent city evils, or to promote civic welfare, are to be worth while, they must be based not on guesswork methods, but upon scientific study of the facts. This is the meaning of the social survey.

KENNEDY SHOWS OPEN TOMORROW ON SECOND STREET

Carnival Company's Dates Moved Up—Large List of Attractions Presented

Tomorrow will signalize the opening of the Con. T. Kennedy shows on the old Second street show grounds near the C.N.R. depot. Although it was originally announced that the Kennedy shows, which come to Edmonton under the auspices of the Edmonton Baseball club, would open their engagement next Monday the date have been changed so that the carnival organization will make its initial bow to Edmonton tomorrow. The curtain will rise at 1.30 p.m. sharp, with Nick Chefalo, aerial artist, making his hazardous leap the gap and loop the loop in full view of spectators who happen to be on the grounds.

The Kennedy shows are bigger, brighter and better than ever this year with 19 shows, including five free exhibitions in one enclosure. Professor Kuntz and his flea circus is one of the remarkable attractions. The fleas, 500 in number, actually perform unheard of feats under the direction of their prolific owner and trainer. Every flea is named to suit its peculiar characteristics.

Then there is the 35-piece band which plays real music in a musicianly manner and is a delight to the ear of even the best trained musicians. Another attraction that should be a magnet to the box office is the Maid of the Mist show, with the Parisian Dancing Dolls, including Miss Jewel and Keith Deno, two talented young people who recently left a big New York musical comedy to play this special engagement with the Kennedy shows. The silhouette and shadowgraph studies contributed by Miss Jewel, Mr. Deno and their confreres are pleasant even to the art connoisseur.

Past masters of terpsichore are the original Texas Tommy dancers, 10 in number, who contribute a glittering extravaganza known as "A Night On the Barbary Coast," while the La Zora troupe of 25 people have a song and dance show that is the superior of most musical attractions now playing Western Canada.

In the world of legerdemain there is Howard Thurston, who contributes one of the stellar features to the Kennedy shows in the form of "Beauty and the Beast," a mystifying series of illusions that invariably leave an audience in a quandary as to the methods to obtain the truly wonderful results visible to the unitiated among the audience. Included in the personnel of the Thurston shows are Harry Gilman, the magician, and the Maryne Sisters, two beautiful young women whose talents have long since won them approbation on both sides of the Atlantic.

The Kennedy Shows will arrive tonight over the C.N.R. Tents will be pitched on the Second street grounds immediately upon the arrival of the two special trains used to convey these enormous attractions, and the first performance will be played tomorrow afternoon at 1.30 sharp.

CLERKS AT ESCH & COMPANY HAVE PICNIC.

The clerks at A. H. Esch and company's had a jolly picnic on Wednesday afternoon at the South Side park. So great was the success of this first one that it was decided to hold one every Wednesday afternoon if possible. Mrs. Esch and Mrs. J. D. Moir were the chaperones. The party, 12 of them, met at the store and went to the picnic grounds together. There was a wonderfully played game of baseball between the young ladies and one young men, which resulted in a magnificent score for the former. It is suspected that it was gallantry and not inability to play that lost the game to the later. A delicious supper was served under the trees, the young ladies catering to it.

"FINE FEATHERS" A TRUE TO LIFE STORY OF TODAY

Body, Soul Backbone and Moral Presented by the Best Players Edmonton Has Yet Had an Opportunity to See on Any Stage

Every once and a while someone writes a play that has body and soul and backbone, a play that is not all moonshine and pale pink sentiment, and nicely turned phrases. When such a one mounts the stage, audiences the country over flock to get the new viewpoint, all except Edmonton audiences. They are too busy applauding the antics of some baggy-pantalooned, black-faced comedian distorting their native tongue, to bother about new viewpoints. As a matter of fact they do not want viewpoints. They want slapsticks. Witness the attendance at the Empire last evening, when Eugene Walter's "Fine Feathers" was produced with a caste the like of which may never be seen again on the boards of an Edmonton theatre. American managers are sparing of their stars as a general rule. One star, they argue, is enough for any one production.

Critics have called this play "crude." So it is. So it should be. Walters wrote it that way, because he knew more about the people he was portraying than the critics. You wouldn't call a woman like Jane Reynolds of the play, whose conception of heaven is a place where the angels wear Paris hats and imported frocks with the price tags still on, anything but crude. Both the socialistic reported and the chemist husband with their half digested theories are crude, but they are absolutely true to life. They talk and act like real people. When they philosophize, and everybody does it nowadays, it sounds real and not as if they had just read it out of a copy book.

"Fine Feathers" is written in four acts. The first one is set in the Reynolds bungalow on Staten Island. It is a shabby, unattractive interior with none of those "cosy, feminine touches" about it so dear to lady novelists. It has the air of a camping place. Only a woman discontented with her lot could impart that unmistakable look to a home. Jane Reynolds (Lolita Robertson) is discontented, not with her husband, but with his inability to get ahead. She has a vision of steam-heated flats and electric runabouts and boys in buttons. When the curtain rises she is just returning from the matinee with a neighbor, Mrs. Collins (Rose Coghlan). She skrimped the tickets out of the household expenses. To get the pretty hat she is wearing she puts the butcher off. Evidently Jane Reynolds did not come of Puritan ancestry. She was a much too up-to-date young woman to be bothered with an old-fashioned New England conscience. It is Wednesday evening, a red-letter day in the Reynolds regime, for every Wednesday Dick Meade (Max Figman) "breezes" in to have the evening meal with his friend and his friends wife. The supper party which follows is a gay feast. Dick has a million theories, and an ardent desire to air them. Right there you get interested in this big boy-man with the infinite capacity for friendship. The feast is broken up by the entrance of John Brand (Wilton Lackeye), a rather unusual type of millionaire to be portrayed by an American playwright. He is as hard as steel, but polished until the sheen blinds those whom he comes in contact to anything but his grace and smoothness of manner. Hitherto American millions, at least the stage millions, stocked around shaggy of brow and hair, chewing a black cigar.

He has a proposition that will make Reynolds rich. Brand represents a cement company which has received the contract to supply all cement for a big dam to be constructed. Reynolds is the chemist in the employ of the company which is to build the dam. The contract calls for a particularly superfine grade of cement. Brand asks Reynolds to pass the ordinary grade as superfine and promises to pay him $10,000 as his share of the profit. He makes a plausible argument to override Reynolds' scruples. He says the ordinary cement will build a dam that will last at least a hundred years, and that long before that time that dam will have to be torn down to make way for a larger one. Reynolds cannot be made to get Brand's viewpoint. Jane Reynolds can, and it is she who finally works on her husband's love for her until he finally consents.

Then the Reynoldses move away from the little bungalow on Staten Island. Jane finds the hidden treasure at the foot of the rainbow, only it isn't a pot of fairy gold, it's a wonderful gown and a hat that is exclusive. She is happy because she is a modern Undine. Reynolds is not. It was just as Dick said, "Some men can't do wrong and get away with it. The wrong gets them." That is what has happened to Reynolds. Day and night he is worried. He is speculating, and losing, thanks to the machinations of Brand. Worse still, he has made a cheque on his bank for $10,000 after he had been notified that there were no funds remaining to his credit. Then Dick comes in, after a two years' absence in Europe. Dick has made good. He says himself that he has taken to "muck-raking." "I'm a good farmer and the crops are fine."

Reynolds tells the reporter what is driving him slowly mad, and Dick promises to help him. Brand drops in from the theatre by appointment, and Reynolds, determined to let everything go to the winds, tries blackmailing the millionaire to extort money from him. Brand threatens to send both Reynolds and his wife up the river.

Jane persuades her husband to accept $10,000 to pay the overdraft at the bank, and with a glimmering of soul pleads with him to let them go away then and start all over. Things are beginning to look a little bright, when news comes that the dam has broken away and hundreds of lives have been lost. There is only one way out and Reynolds takes it. Going over to the desk phone, he calls to the police, tells them of a suicide at his house number and then shoots himself.

Every character in the play was flawlessly portrayed, even the minor part of Frieda, the maid. The stage setting was excellent, and there were bits in the production like the bringing in of a new gown by the maid just at the moment when the wife is pleading with her husband for a second chance for both of them that show the cunning hand of a master builder.

"Fine Feathers" makes a great more at impression without any pulpit-thumping, without any of the characters turning preacher.

Brandon, July 12—Widespread interest among Brandon farmers is being evidenced in the plans of the conservation commission of Ottawa with reference to the establishment of demonstration farms in this vicinity with a view to demonstrating approved methods of intensive agriculture.

The aims of the commission include the making of farming more profitable and pleasant as well as more business-like, and the improvement of rural conditions along social and educational lines, especially by means of the encouragement of the community spirit.

ROYAL PRINCESS TO LEAD SIMPLE LIFE

Kaiser's Only Daughter a Real Home Bird, Modest and Shy and Very Popular With the People

Now that the pomp and pageantry of the festivities attending the marriage of the Princess Victoria Louise to Prince Ernest of Cumberland are over, the Kaiser's only daughter looks forward to a life which must contrast strangely with the brilliant years of her girlhood.

The Princess has been one of the most popular members of the Hohenzollern family. Her simplicity and good nature won her friends everywhere.

As the wife of Prince Ernest she will leave all the splendors of royal life and take up her residence in the provincial town of Rathenow, where she and her husband will occupy a comparatively modest villa with a small retinue of servants.

A point of great interest to Germans, however, is whether, as a result of the reconciliation just effected between the houses of Hohenzollern and Cumberland, her husband will yet be allowed to ascend the throne of Brunswick, thus giving her an actual status of a reigning princess with the title of Duchess of Brunswick.

SOCIETY CHAPERONE A PAYING BUSINESS

Poverty-Stricken Parisian Gentlewomen Costly Aides to Madame Parvenue With Social Ambitions.

The business of paid society chaperones is increasing in Paris according to late cables, largely on account of the demand of wealthy American women. One can get a good society chaperone on precisely the same principle that one can hire a good guide to Louvre.

The cost depends upon the circumstances. First of all a lump sum, varying from $2,500 to $5,000, is given as a preliminary. It is much easier for the chaperone to obtain invitations to functions given in hotels.

Sometimes the charge is proportionately larger to have her name appear in a list of people of recognized distinction. Then the amiable chaperone arranges a dinner party, for instance. She is the hostess. She invites some of the very best people at her disposal. Her protege is one of the guests.

Next day the society customes of the papers announce that Madame X gave a dinner, and among the guests were the Duke and Duchess of X., etc.

The chaperone gives a fashionable musicale. The best talent of our leading theatres is engaged. The woman who is being launched pays for the talent and adds a notable sum for incidental expenses.

The same principle applies to luncheons, theatre parties and receptions.

The most costly chaperone of all is the one who devotes her whole season to her protege. She not only arranges the functions mentioned, but she accompanies her charge to the seaside, the races, on automobile expeditions and to fashionable routs.

Are Beads Made of Dried Rose Leaves — Can Be Combined With Corals in Make Exquisite Necklace

Before the rose season closes the girl with a fondness for fragrance should make several strings of rose beads. These beads retain their perfume and are beautiful.

Collect fresh rose petals, run them through a grinder several times until they are pulpy. Catch the juice and mix it back each time. After thorough grinding the petals take two iron pans, spread the pulp evenly over the bottoms of the pans and set them away in a cool place for twenty-four hours, until the pulp is black on the one side. Then turn it over and let it stay on that side until it is also black. Do not let it stay too long in hot weather as it might sour a little.

Put it through a grinder again and then it is ready to form beads. Make the beads twice as large as you want them as they shrink. Fill a thimble full of pulp, then take this and roll around in the palm of the hand or spoon until it is as round as you can make it.

Repeat this until you have beads formed. Then have someone to hold a hatpin, point up, and string the beads on the hat pin. Take small pieces of paper about an inch square. Put the bead on the pinpoint and then take hold of the corners of the paper and force the beads down the pin with the paper, leaving each bead on the pin. This avoids flattening the ends of the beads. Fill each pin ful, not letting the beads touch.

It takes about three days to dry thoroughly. When they are perfectly hard and firm, slip them from the pin and shake and rub them gently in a cloth bag. This polishes them. A little soaking in olive oil improves the polish. Now wipe dry and string on heavy thread or Gental floss with little gold, glass or coral beads between each rose bead. It takes about fifty beads for a small string.

WORK HARD TO EAT WELL TO LIVE LONG

Recipe of Mrs. Rebecca Clark Who Is the Oldest Woman in England to Those Who Would Have Long Life

Mrs. Rebecca Clark, of High road, Wood Green, London, who is believed to be the oldest woman in England, has just celebrated her 109th birthday with a party, at which five generations were represented, including a daughter of seventy-six and a great-great-grandchild of five months.

A fine looking woman, with sight and hearing unimpared, she still preserves in marked degree many of attributes of youth. A great event this year was the gift of a Parisian bonnet, for, to the soft impeachment of decorous feminine vanity Mrs. Clark cheerfully pleads guilty. Indeed, her unerring judgement in matters affecting the intricacies of feminine adornment and her immediate detection of immitations have gained for her the very wholesome respect of milliners and modistes.

Her receipt for a height and ripe old age is:—"Work hard and eat well; go to bed early and get up betimes." She still abides by those golden rules. She was down to breakfast on her birthday morning soon after eight o'clock and made a hearty meal, consisting of eggs, bread and butter and several cups of tea, and for her midday meal she had cold meat and salad, new potatoes, stewer fruit and custard, with tea and bread.

Mrs. Clark expresses contempt for coffee and cocoa. "Give me the good old English fare," she says, "and to the marines with your modern concoctions." She retires to rest at eight each evening.

STRIKE OR LOCKOUT DUE IN CALGARY VERY SOON

Relations Between the Builders' Exchange and the Bricklayers' Union Have Become Strained.

Calgary, July 11.—Relations between the Builders' Exchange and the Brick and Stone Masons' union are strained, and either a general strike or a lockout, either of which would tie up practically all of the building of the city, is expected within the next 24 hours.

The men are demanding 70 cents an hour. The builders agreed to pay this demand, providing the men would do no work for individuals or concerns not actually engaged in the building business for less than 80 cents an hour.

At a meeting yesterday morning the union rejected this proposition.

PATENT NOT RE-ISSUED.

London, July 11.—The English courts have refused to re-issue letters patent on an invention of Waldemar Poulsen relating to the "Storing up of speech or signals by magnetic influence," which are held by a telephone corporation of New Jersey.

The application was refused on the ground that the invention of Mr. Poulsen, the Danish wireless inventor, had never been put to use in this country because the corporation was waiting for a perfected machine which it says it has now obtained. The petition was dismissed.

McCOMBS GETTING BETTER.

Paris, July 11.—So satisfactory is the progress made by W. F. McCombs, chairman of the democratic national committee, toward convalescence since his recent operation for appendicitis, that he will be able to leave the hospital at a comparatively early date.

CALIFORNIA FIRES CONTROLLED.

Tamalpais Summit, Calif., July 11.—The forest fires on Mount Tamalpais, after four days and three sleepless nights of fighting, are under control. Mill Valley, Corte Madeira and Muirwood are beyond the danger zone. Outside of timber, the property loss has been slight.

It is definitely established there were no deaths.

to be expended during the present season.

The engineer stated that work on plank walks and boulevards authorized for this year has been almost completed and therefore no reduction could be made on these. Concrete walks are also well advanced and very little change could be made on these.

It then came down to a question of water and sewer construction and street paving. The paving program was taken up with the result that a number of streets will be omitted from the list now being made up covering the $1,500,000, the amount provided for by debentures. The streets being left off this list are Heiminck, McGauley and Carey on the north side of the river, and Saskatchewan avenue on the south side. The balance of the streets authorized on the original program will be made up into a separate list, and whatever amount necessary to provide for these is, it will be covered by a separate bylaw.

The opinion of those present this morning appeared to be that very little could really be done by way of curtailing or cutting down the sewer extensions planned for this year. The engineer called attention to the fact that this work, and especially the trunk sewers, is being done in sections of the city where it is absolutely necessary, and any cutting down would be detrimental to the citizens. The same argument was applied to water mains, these being prime necessities.

It is quite apparent that very little curtailment of this year's program can be safely attempted at the present time. It is a question of getting ahead with the work and providing sufficient funds to cover what can be completed this year.

Solicitor Newell stated that he personally believed the August payment on the debentures already sold would be made on time. This will provide $2,160,000 and make up a total of 73 per cent., which would then have been paid on the whole debenture issue.

AUTO IS MIRED AT THIRD AND JASPER

Good, Strong Team Is Needed to Haul Machine Back to Solid Ground

The driver of one of the automobiles owned by the Worswick Paving company had an annoying experience at two o'clock this afternoon. He drove his automobile into the muddy spot on Third street directly in front of the church now used by the city hall officials. The wheels became mired in the clay and every attempt made to get it out only drove the machine deeper into the mud until finally the hubs were almost completely covered.

At this point Superintendent Alton of the street scavenging department happened to come along. He saw at a glance what was needed and proceeded to get a good strong team hitched to the rear of the automobile.

With its power mechanism reversed and two horse power added, the automobile was soon dragged out to solid ground.

The incident was watched by several hundred persons, who considered it an unusual sight to see an automobile stuck in the mud up to the top of the wheels at one of the main street corners of the city.

CANADIANS BEAT THE BELGIANS AT TENNIS

They Now Will Enter the Finals With United States to Decide Which Will Meet England.

Folkestone, July 11.—The second day's play in the Davies Lawn Tennis cup semi-finals between Canadian and Belgian teams was by many regarded as a foregone conclusion in the Canadians' favor after their fine showing of yesterday.

R. B. Powell and B. P. Schwengers of Canada were elected to meet A. G. Watson and W. H. Duvivier of Belgium in the doubles.

The Canadian team won the doubles match from the Belgians and thus qualify to enter the finals, in which the United States and Canada will compete for the right to challenge the English team for the Davis cup.

Powell and Schwengers had an easy time to beat Watson and Duvivier. They won the match in three straight sets of 6-2, 6-2, 6-2.

Nottingham, July 11.—The American team, consisting of McLoughlin and Hackett, won the doubles by three sets to one from the German team, Rahe and Kleinschroth. The United States representatives consequently enter the final round, where they will meet Canada.

The scores in the doubles made between the United States and Germany were 6-4, 2-6, 6-3, 8-6.

CANADA HOLDING THIRD POSITION IN BISLEY SHOOT

Britain and Australia Are the Leading Teams in the Order Named

HAWKINS MAKES BULLS EYE ON WRONG TARGET

This Loses Five Points to His Side—Bullock scores a Possible—Light Fishtail Wind Blowing.

Bisley, Eng., July 11—Shooting began today and will conclude tomorrow in the Empire match for the challenge trophy presented by the Australian Rifle Association for annual competition by the teams of eight men representing the naval and military forces of the United Kingdom, the several overseas dominions and other units of the British Empire. It is shot for over three, five, and six hundred yards today at eight and nine hundred, and at a thousand yards tomorrow, 10 shots at each distance.

This match has been shot for on three previous occasions; in 1907, when it was won by Australia with 2,104 points, New Zealand second and Great Britain third; in 1909, when Australia won with 2,088 points, New Zealand second; and in 1910, when Great Britain won with 2,177 points, Canada second with 2,105 points, Australia third, India fourth and Singapore fifth.

Today, therefore, is Canada's second essay in this competition, which is held at the end of the week immediately preceding the opening of the N. R.A. meeting at Bisley.

British Team Make.

Following is the personnel of the British team defending this challenge trophy:

Sergt. Barr, London Scottish Rifle Brigade; Private Fulton, Queens Westminster; Pte. Gray, London Scottish; W. A. Hall, Queens Westminster; Sergt. Ommundsen, Queens Regt., Edinburgh; Corp. Mann, Honorable Artillery Company; Pte. Wirgman, London Scottish, and Sergt. Martin, Glasgow Highlanders. Of these Barr Fulton and Ommundsen are ex-King's prizemen.

At the opening range, 10 shots at 300 yards, the weather was good, but there was a light fishtail wind, and the Canadians could do no better than third place, with a total of 363; Britain leading with 377, then Australia 364, India 334.

Following were individual Canadian scores at 300 yards:

Pte. A. Denholm, 79th Regiment, Winnipeg, 47; Color Sergt. S. J. Perry, 6th D.C.O.R., Vancouver, 43; Lieut. F. A. Stack, 78th Regt., Truro, N.S., 44; Sergt. A. G Bullock, 2nd Q.O.R., Toronto, 47; Staff Sergt. James Freeborn, 13th Regt., Hamilton, 48; Pte. W. Hawkins, 48th Highlanders, Toronto, 47; Lieut. F. Richardson, C. of G., Victoria, 46; Capt. C. R. Crowe, 30th Regt., Guelph, 41

Increase Their Leads.

At the next range, 500 yards, both Britain and Australia increased their leads over Canada, totals being Britain 386; Australia 385; Canada 379, and India 352. Following were the individual scores at 500 yards:

Denholm, 49; Perry, 46; Stack, 48; Bullock, 50; Freeborn, 49; Hawkins, 42; Crowe, 47; Richardson, 48.

Hawkins made a bulls-eye on the wrong target, losing five points to his team. Bullock scored a possible.

The first day's shooting of the Empire match was concluded with Britain leading with a total of 1136. Australia are second with 1110, Canada third with 1085, and India fourth with 1014. In the 600 yards range Britain obtained 373, Australia 361, Canada 343, and India 328. The following are the individual Canadian scores at this range:

SUPERSTITIOUS ITALIANS THINK THIRTEEN CAUSE OF UNPRECEDENTED RAIN

In Many Places the Country Has Been Devastated and the Crops Destroyed—Weather is Remarkably Cold For This Time of the Year

Rome, July 11—A terrific storm is raging throughout Italy and in many places the country has been devastated and the crops destroyed. It is accompanied by remarkably cold weather for this time of the year.

The temperature in Rome at noon today fell below 60 degrees Fahrenheit. Such weather in the middle of July has not been recorded in Italy since the year 1813, and superstitious people attributed it to the repetition of the number 13.

Naples, July 11—Extraordinary falls of rain and hail have flooded the surrounding country for the last two days. Torrents of water mixed with mud and ashes from Vesuvius have inundated the villages along the Gulf of Turin.

Owing to a strong cold wind from the north, accompanied by hurricanes, the temperature today fell almost to freezing point.

Snow is reported to have fallen in the Alps.

WHEAT PRICES ON THE DOWN TREND

This Is Due to General Rains Over the Spring Area—Cash Demand Quiet

Winnipeg, July 11—Wheat prices were on the down trend here due to the general rains over the spring wheat areas. July sold at $1.00 during the first hour of business. Opening prices were unchanged to ¼ cent lower and closed ¼ to 1⅛ cents lower.

The cash demand was quiet. There were few offerings but no export enquiry.

Inspections were 166 cars and in sight were 300.

Cables closed: Berlin ⅛ lower; Budapesth 1⅞ higher and Antwerp 1¼ higher.

Liverpool was on holiday.

FLOATING R.&O. ON LONDON MARKET

New Twenty-five Million Corporation to Take Over 12 Lines in Canada.

London, July 11.—It is announced here that a large consolidation of Canadian water transportation companies is about to take place, to be known as the Canadian Transportation Lines, limited, with a capital of £5,000,000 sterling. This sum, which approximates $25,000,000, will be provided by some of the most important financial houses in the city, complete arrangements for this undertaking being now concluded.

The new corporation will acquire as a going concern at least 12 existing companies. The consolidation scheme is expected to result in many benefits to shippers and investment of further large amounts of British capital in Canada.

The Richelieu and Ontario.

The above cable refers to the amalgamation under dominion charter at the last session of the Ottawa house of the companies, of which the Ontario and group of inland waterways steamship Richelieu is the controlling factor, but which takes in concerns doing business between the head of the lakes and the mouth of the St. Lawrence. Some objection was taken to this incorporation on the grounds that it was creating a monopoly or trust, but it was pointed out by those who had charge of the merger that there can be no monopoly in inland waters traffic.—W. A. P.

Alexander B. McDonald, out on parole on June 27, from the penitentiary, gave C.N.R. Constable Stephens a fast battle last night in the C.N.R. yards, but was finally handcuffed and taken to the police station.

When searched the man had, in addition to his parole papers, a ten-dollar bill, which upon examination proved to be counterfeit and also a black bordered envelope that the police officials think will give them some clue regarding the escape of the four men from the Pen.

Writer Says He Was One of Three Who Killed Hotel Man in North Dakota.

PUT BODY IN CREEK TO AVERT SUSPICION

Tells the Police That He Will Give Himself Up As Soon As the Others He Mentions Are Taken into Custody.

Fargo, N.D., July 11—John Gilbert, proprietor of the Commercial hotel at Casselton, was murdered in April, 1912, according to the confession made by letter to the chief of police at Casselton, by a man who claimed to have been one of the men who witnessed the killing on the night Mr. Gilbert was supposed to have committed suicide by drowning himself in Swan Creek.

The man who wrote the letter, stated that he and two companions had planned to rob the hotel.

They entered the building by the back door and just after having entered, were confronted by the proprietor.

He was struck over the head by one of the three with a piece of rubber hose filled with sand, and the blow resulted in his immediate death.

His body was placed in the creek by the men with the idea that he would be considered a suicide.

The authorities have a complete description of the men who are charged in the letter with the act.

The writer says he will give himself up when the other two are apprehended.

He cites convincing incidents of the affair. He told where the hose with which the man was killed, could be found, and it was located by the chief.

RAIN CAUSED HEAVY TRACK; RACES POOR

Largest Attendance of Meet in Winnipeg In Spite of Bad Weather Conditions.

Winnipeg, July 11.—Heavy rain, and the consequent heavy track, marred the third day's racing at the Exhibition here yesterday, but the attendance was greater than on other days. The big race program of the day was the Hotel Keepers of $5,000, which was won by Grand Opera in straight heats. The local crack, the Beaver, appeared for the first time in faster company and gave a good account of himself. Barnes, the driver of the latter, was fined $25 by the judges, who considered that he could easily have driven into second place in the final heat. The betting for second and third place in this race was cancelled.

Summary of results:

220 pace or 2:15 trot; hotel keepers purse of $5,000:—Grand Opera (Smith and Proctor, Toronto) won; The Beaver (E. J. Rochon, Winnipeg) second; Dobro (M. Childs, Spokane, Wash.) third; The Deacon (J. McGuire, Denver) fourth. Time 2:12 1-2, 2:14 1-4, 2:13 1-2.

2:15 trot; purse $1,000:—Prince of Peleg (Tuttle, Anaconda) won; Vaster (McKenzie and McDonald, Winnipeg) second; Baroness Helen (Flemming, Portage la Prairie) third. Times 2:17 1-2, 2:20 1-2, 2:19 1-4.

Six furlongs running; purse $350:—Banfield (Anderson and Lunney, Regina) won; Dotty (Reid and Meyer, Calgary) second; Rioja (Fullerton and Maboz, Victoria) third. Time 1:16 1-2.

Ladies Plate running; mile; purse $500:—Prince Rupperd (Wheat City Stables, Edmonton) won; Sunny Day (G. Bradshaw, Binscarth) second; Tuscan (Mrs. McKenzie, Cochrane) third. Time 1:48.

Five furlongs running; purse $300:—Fore (Irwin Bros., Cheyenne) won; Judge Henderson (Reid and Mayeo) second; Casmona (Wheat City Stables) third. Time 1:04.

Still Another Contest Dropped by Gray Birds

Regina Took Game by Close Score of Three to One—Rankin Twirled Stellar Ball for the Home Team Although Edmonton Made Some Long Hits.

Regina, July 11.—With Rankin in the best of form, Regina had no difficulty in getting back into their winning stride last evening, and they defeated the Gray Birds by a score of 3-1. The visitors drew first blood in the second, when three singles in a row tallied one run. The Sox evened up in the third and tucked the game safely away in the sixth and seventh innings, scoring one in each.

Rankin's pitching was the big factor of the contest. After allowing three singles in the second innings, he settled down, and from this out the Edmonton batsmen could do absolutely nothing with his delivery. He worked his wide inshoot to perfection, and after the second inning but three scattered hits were made off him. Two of these were for three bases, but came at most inopportune times. In addition to pitching a brilliant game, Rankin also fielded his position in fine style. In the second inning he figured in a double play which pulled the team out of a bad fix. With the second and third bases occupied, he nabbed a hot liner to Spencer's bat and winged the ball to third in time to catch the runner who had been playing away off.

The game resulted in the introduction of another new player to the Regina fans. A lanky chap named Boyle. Where Boyle came from nobody seems to know, but by the time the game was over there was no doubt left in the minds of the fans as to his fine baseball ability. Working in both right field and at first base he handled himself well, while he stood up at the plate like a veteran.

A foul tip off Redmond's bat in the second inning resulted in a split finger for Baker, who had to retire from the game, and he was succeeded behind the bat by Duggan, who caught a stellar game. Boyle, who had been playing in right field, took Duggan's place at first and Matz supplanted Boyle.

Biersdorfer pitched a very good game for Edmonton, despite the fact that he was touched for eleven bingles.

MILLERS WIN FROM BRONKS

Red Gavin Held His Opponents Safe While Reese Is Knocked Out of the Box

Moose Jaw, July 11.—Threatening clouds hung over the diamond through the five innings which the game with the Bronks lasted this evening, but in that time the Millers pounded out four runs to Calgary's two.

Rees was knocked off the rubber by the homesters in the third inning, after Fortier had knocked out a three-bagger with three men on, all of whom singled in turn. Dickinson was rushed to the rescue, but Seaton laid down a single, scoring Fortier before the side was retired. Red Gavin worked for the Millers and allowed five hits. The Bronks got their two runs in the second when, with two out, Gavin gave a base on balls to Meyers, and this was followed by a single by Streib and a long three base hit to right by Reese, which scored both men who were on the paths. In the last three innings Gavin held his men safe, striking out five and allowing only another hit.

The score by innings:

|---|---|---|---|
| Calgary | 020 00—2 | 5 | 0 |
| Moose Jaw | 004 00—4 | 7 | 1 |

THE FINAL RACE

Huntington, N. Y., July 11.—Count Monkewsski's Ankle Deep, J. Stuart Blackton's America, and James Simpson's Peter Pan V. started yesterday afternoon in the last of the trial races to select challengers for the Harmsworth International cup for motor boats. The Ankle Deep, not driven at full speed, completed three five mile rounds of the course in 8 minutes 57 seconds, 9 minutes 34 seconds, and 9 minutes 48 seconds respectively, and then withdrew with the consent of the race committee, the other two boats being badly broken down.

GOOD SPORTS PROGRAM LISTED FOR SATURDAY

Sanction of the Alberta Amateur Athletic Association Has Been Secured for Five Open Events—Many Other Athletic Contests as Well.

The sports which are to be held at the Exhibition Grounds on July 12 in connection with the celebration on that day promise to be some event. Five events will be under the sanction of the Alberta Amateur Athletic Association and the prizes offered will no doubt draw entries from the best athletes, including many of the champions at the Amalgamation Day sports.

The events open to all registered athletes are the hundred yards, quarter mile, half mile, one mile and two miles. In addition to these there are many other athletic contests open to the different orange lodges which will be present.

A special effort is being made to make the sports side of the program an interesting and pleasing one. No doubt the competitions will be very keen.

SASKATOONS ARE STILL ON SLIDE

Swatfest at Quaker City, with Many Errors by Losers, Provides Poor Entertainment

Saskatoon, July 11.—The Quakers failed to break their slump yesterday and lost to Medicine Hat in a swatfest, with a comedy of Saskatoon errors mixed in, to the tune of 14 to 4. This was the worst beating handed the locals this season.

The Hurleyites simply could not hit their stride. Their half dozen errors all came at critical times and proved very costly. The Hatters played good ball and gave Brown strong support.

Churchill was found for fifteen hits, one of them a home run and another good for two bases. Twelve were made off Brown, one a homer and two triples. The visitors hit opportunely and in bunches, while the Quakers' slams were scattered. Brown showed his best form with men on bases when he tightened up like an oyster.

The score by innings:

| | R. | H. | E. |
|---|---|---|---|
| Medicine Hat | 400 240 232—14 | 14 | 1 |
| Saskatoon | 002 014 000—4 | 12 | 6 |

CANADA NOW IN TENNIS FINALS

Canadian Players Have Two in Hand In Semi-finals and Playing Strong For Championship

Folkestone, England, July 11.—Canada finished with two matches in hand the first day's play in the semi final of the Davis Cup preliminaries against Belgium, and with every prospect of meeting in the final round at Wimbledon the winners of the United States series against Germany at Nottingham.

R. B. Powell, the Canadian captain, and B. P. Sewengers, the Canadian champion, won their matches against P. De Borman and A. G. Watson respectively, without the loss of a single set, Powell winning by the score of 6 to 2; 6 to 1; 6 to 1; and Sewengers by 6 to 4; 6 to 1; 6 to 0.

The match between Sewengers and Watson was keenly contested in the first set. Watson obtained a brief lead, but the Canadian eventually secured an advantage, maintained it, and outplayed his opponent throughout the rest of the match.

Powers and Swengers tomorrow meet A. G. Watson and W. G. Duvivier in the doubles.

The United States team is composed of Maurice B. McLoughlin, Harold H. Hackett, R. Norris Williams and Wallace F. Johnson as reserve.

The German team consists of Otto Froeitzheim, Oscar Kreuzer, Friederich Wilhelm Rahe and Heinrich Kleinschroth, the leader among German lawn tennis players, did not play then owing to an injured arm.

Since the Wiesbaden meeting, Froeitzheim has taken part in the tennis championships at Paris with conspicuous success.

All the men have European reputations, having played through many tournaments on the Riviera, at St. Moritz in France, and according to the programme two singles matches were scheduled for today, Williams being drawn against Kreuzer and McLoughlin against Froeitzheim.

What Fred Barter May Have Done for Soccer

E. Bailey Fisher, Hon. Pres. of D. F. A., and Pres. of M. F. A. of Winnipeg Answers Attack Made by Calgary Soccerite on President of Dominion Football Association.

Sporting Editor,—

Sir,—Kindly allow me space in the sporting columns of your paper to comment on an article written by Mr. J. K. Matheson, of Calgary, which appeared in your paper recently, and which was a rather severe criticism of Fred Barter, president of the Dominion of Canada Football Association.

I do not know Mr. Barter personally very well, having met him on only one occasion, but of the work he has done for association football in Canada I can speak, and I believe in giving honor to whom honor is due. It is easy for Mr. Matheson to find fault with another's work, and thus to injure a good cause, but he must remember the difficulties which surround a person who is following a constructive policy and endeavoring to build well. Mr. Barter has done for football in Canada that which will endure and which will be remembered in soccer circles whenever the history of the game in Canada is considered.

It would be a mistake for me to attempt a seriatim reply to Mr. Matheson's article. I will, therefore, state as concisely as possible what Mr. Barter and his associates have done for the game and leave your readers to draw their own conclusions.

Prior to July, 1912, many futile attempts had been made to organize an all Canadian Football Association. Between July 9 and 13, 1912, Fred Barter and Tom Robertson, with others from Ontario and Quebec (after having notified all provincial football associations to send representatives), came to Winnipeg, and with the assistance of delegates from the Manitoba Football association, organized the Dominion of Canada Football association. There were present at this meeting duly appointed representatives from the three Provinces above named, and if my memory serves me, the Alberta and Saskatchewan associations recognized the meeting by telegrams, the former telegraphing to the effect that it was in sympathy with the movement, and authorized a proxy vote, and the latter to the effect that owing to the cyclone at Regina it was impossible to arrange a meeting for the appointment of representatives. At the time of this meeting the People's Shield competition was being conducted in Winnipeg, and teams were in the city from Lethbridge, Prince Albert, Saskatoon and Fort William, as well as from Manitoba points; at a mass meeting of these teams, including their supporters, the question of organizing the Dominion of Canada Football association was discussed and the concensus of opinion was that its formation was essential to football in Canada.

The Manitoba representatives made it a condition of affiliation with the D.F.A., and this body should work in harmony with the Amateur Athletic union of Canada, and to prove that this feature of the organization had not been neglected, Mr. Barter produced articles of alliance between the A. A. U. of C. and the proposed D. F. A., duly signed and sealed by the president and secretary of the amateur body. He also produced a cablegram from President Crowe (who was then in Stockholm), to the effect that the D.F.A. would be admitted to provisional affiliation with the Federation Internationale de Football association," another very much desired achievement.

The Dominion of Canada Football association (D.F.A.) became a recognized body at that time with a complete constitution, a full set of officers, and a cup for competition, the latter graciously donated by his royal highness the duke of Connaught, who is also patron of the association. It is true that later on, the A.A.U. of C. repudiated the articles of alliance referred to, and it also true that the D.F.A. has for the first year of its history had a stormy passage, but, thanks largely to Fred Barter, it is now in calm water. It is the only body now recognized by the A.A.U. of C. as governing football in Canada; also, it is now (since June 4, 1913), in full affiliation with the Federation Internationale de Football association, a body which governs football the world over. No football club from Canada can compete in the Olympic games unless such club is affiliated with the D.F.A.

Surely Fred Barter has builded well for soccer in Canada. He may have his faults, a lot of the accusations hurled at him by Mr. Matheson I know nothing of, nor do they seem very important, no man is infallible. I appreciate what Mr. Barter has done for soccer and I do not bother with what he says about it. I lend him for his work. Football was never before on such sound basis in Canada as it is now, and if Mr. Matheson is the keen enthusiast he appears to be, I appeal to him now to stop destructive tactics and join with the D.F.A. in constructive work along the lines of solidifying amateur association football in our country. We have the controlling body, there is no doubt about it, and it now remains for those interested to see that the men charged with governing the game foster the amateur spirit and discourage professionalism.

Thanking you in anticipation for the use of so much of your valuable space,

E. BAILEY FISHER,

GET IT AT THE BAY

SPORT COMMENT

The winning streak in which New York has been wallowing for the past week or so has been broken. Christy Mathewson was the pitcher to suffer the break, Wednesday Marquard pitched and New York was outhit by the opposing team, but New York won. Yesterday Mathewson pitched and New York outhit the other team, but lost. Truly, baseball is a strange game.

There are a few facts in connection with the Ritchie-Rivers fight at San Francisco which were not made plain by the press dispatches received in Edmonton or the rest of Western Canada. The papers of San Francisco of July 3 show a little more clearly the reason why Rivers was defeated and it is not particularly to Rivers' credit. The fight experts who wrote about the fight after agreed that Rivers was not really knocked out, but that to all intents and purposes he faked a knock out. W. W. Naughton, in the San Francisco Examiner, says he counted himself out. When he received the second blow which sent him down he fell artificially and rose to his knees and with his hand he himself counted the seconds in time with the referee, until out was declared, and then rose to his feet apparently well except for fatigue.

It is not necessary or profitable to speak harshly of a man because he does not show an indomitable spirit, especially under the gruelling conditions of a prize fight. It is not necessary to criticise Rivers with sarcastic or brutal words because of his lack of spirit, except in so far as it will help to prevent his managers to again boost him as a champion possibility.

In that connection it is interesting to watch for the excuse which will be put forward by McCarthy and Levy, Rivers' managers for the defeat. Every time Joe has been defeated they have explained it away in a manner intended to save his reputation and keep him in the front rank, where he could pester champions.

The simple explanation of the defeat is that Rivers lacks grit, the essence of contention. He is altogether too ready to say "What's the use."

It appears that this defeat by Ritchie will about settle the Mexican's claims for recognition in the future it is going to be difficult for Rivers to find the same lucrative employment which has come his way in the past. That will be the case just as much in the Golden Gate state where he has always been petted and idolized.

To Rivers' credit it must be said that in the second, third and fourth rounds he just about had the champion out. He was fighting like a game cook, and it was not until he had failed to defeat his opponent by his best work that Rivers gave up.

Battling Nelson's theory that his slow heart beat was the cause of his phenomenal endurance, is being substantiated right along. The normal number of beats a minute for the human heart is 72. The Battler's heart beats but 52 times a minute, and to this he laid his ability to take a whipping and win.

Now marathon and other distance runners come forward with hearts that put Nelson's in the shade when it comes to slowness. Harry J. Smith, the national ten mile champion, is also the champion of the slow heart brigade. His heart beats but 48 times a minute.

Smith entered the Boston A.A. marathon, and Dr. J. H. Cunningham, of Boston, examined his heart less than a minute after he had crossed the finish line. Although Smith had just completed one of the hardest heart strains known, his heart was beating about 80 times a minute—just eight above the normal average person.

Recently he took a life insurance examination and was informed that of 27,000 hearts examined his had the slowest beat.

George Bonhag, the middle distance runner, is another slow pulsed man. His heart has a peculiarity. It goes 64 a minute while he is standing, but lets up ten beats as soon as he lies down. Another one of the brigade is Mike Ryan, a New York distance runner.

Recently he was operated on at a New York hospital, and his heart was tested before he was given ether. Under conditions making for slowness, his heart beat but 42 to the minute. He resisted ether and had to be given enough to put ten men to sleep, but his "marathon heart" was unaffected.

SHUGARMAN ---WINS---

D. Shugarman's Knock - Out Sale Concerns Prices

Not men. It is a fight to a finish against inflated values; so that men may get a serviceable article at a fair price. It is a blow aimed at the pernicious system of two prices, and the demoralizing effort to get the biggest price without regard to quality. It is a fight to reduce the high cost of living waged in the interests of the man who wants the best return for his $, and DAVE gets the decision by popular approval. And, remember, we do as we say; we don't advertise goods we haven't got or prices either. Every item in this "ad." is on sale, and hundreds of others we cannot afford to mention. Come to the store. Make us deliver the goods.

CLEVER FIGHTERS ARE COMING INTO THEIR OWN AGAIN

The Day of the Tearing Fighter Passing—Is Brute Strength Better Than Science.

(By W. W. Naughton.)

San Francisco, July 11.—Discussions have arisen in England and Australia as to whether the "tear-in" fighters of the present day are better boxers than the clever fellows who made a business of pugilism 15 or 20 years ago. Some of the arguments used in support of the various views expressed are highly interesting but one very important matter has been overlooked. There are no "tear-in" fighters now—at least none worth talking about. The clever fellows have come into their own again.

Take the smaller men. When Terry McGovern, with bent back, lowered head and rapidly revolving fists began demolishing the nations of the earth, the opinions that many persons held in respect to the noble art of self-defense were revolutionized. After the Brooklyn whirlwind had run amuck for a year or two, grave doubts existed as to whether there was any scientific side to boxing, for had not the "tear-in" developed a youth who by determined onslaught could upset all ideas of leading, countering, timing, side stepping and what not?

And when Terry spread eagled Peddler Palmer, the pride of British pugdom, in one round, the belief that forthrightness was the one and only antidote for cleverness became a firmer ground than ever.

Terry Died

Terry strutted his brief period and then went under to an other "tear-in" fighter in the person of Young Corbett. It is worthy of note, by the way, that each of these "tear-in" specialists fell a victim to a fellow who also operated along "tear-in" lines. Corbett did fairly well until he ran foul of Battling Nelson, who was possibly the most heading fighter of them all—greater even than Terry McGovern, the founder of the "tear-in" dynasty.

Nelson did more than any of them to show that cleverness could be made to succomb to direct methods. Among other things he won from Joe Gans, who was possibly the most scientific lightweight the world ever has known. When Nelson's time came it was another "tear-in" fighter who accounted for him. This was Ad. Wolgast and while Wolgast still untroubled with the spasms of appendicitis, the toxical experience he ever had with still another "tear-in" fighter, to wit, Knockout Brown.

With the passing of Wolgast the "tear-in" lodge seems to have been worked out. It may be that Bud Anderson, the Vancouver lightweight, will be able to keep the good work going, but so far as the numbers are concerned he will have to fight against odds. Tommy Murphy tears in occasionally but does not confine himself to that style of milling. Tommy told the writer once that he aimed to fight those whom opposed to a clever opponent, and box cleverly when in front of a rusher.

Clever ones coming

From the lightweights down, the clever lads are in the ascendant again

Packey McFarland, who can claim to be a lightweight now that the weight limit has been bunched, is nothing if not clever, and unless Jack Britton has changed tactics since he went east he is also a boxer of the brainy, resourceful stamp.

Jimmy Duffy, the Lockport boy, who is fast forging to the front, is another exponent of scientific pugilism, while Ritchie, Rivers, Mandot, Leach Cross and Freddie Welsh are all performers of the "hit, step and get away" school.

The welter, middle and light—heavy classes are so mussed now that it is impossible to tell "who is who" in the divisions named, but it can certainly be said that Mike Gibbons and Jimmy Clabby, a pair of really clever workmen, seem to be able to give away lots of weight gain decisions from the bets men that can be found for them.

Johnnie Kilbane, the featherweight champion and Johnny Coulon, the prince of bantams, have held their positions by dint of clever boxing and the manner in which little Eddie Campi handled the mercurial Frenchman, Ledoux at Los Angeles, recently also favors the argument that cleverness is asserting itself in matters pugilistic again.

The heavyweight situation is so muddled that it is not easy to figure out what has contributed to success in that particular department but in a general way it can be shown that cleverness has made itself felt among the big fellows during the past few years. This too, despite the fact that Bombardier Wells, the most finished boxer England has produced in years, has been defeated practically every time he started.

Johnson Clever

Jack Johnson's long suit was cleverness and there is no occasion to recall what he has done. He was certainly the greatest heavyweight since Jeffries was in his heyday.

The most pronounced "tear-in" fighters of the heavyweight class in recent times were Jim Flynn and Al. Palzer, but Luther McCarthy, who was in a way of a second Jim Corbett, disposed of the pair within a few weeks.

McCarthy is gone, Johnson has fallen upon evil days and it is hard to tell what is in store for the heavyweights. But in respect to pugilism generally, it can be said that in the whirling of time the artists of the Queensberry ring have gained the ascendancy over the slugsers.

There is no assurance that the present order of things will continue and about the only thing existing conditions prove is that evolution has not produced any permanent change in fighting methods.

Just now they are fighting the way they fought a quarter of a century ago.

A NEW RACE COURSE

New York, July 11.—The racing committee of the Royal Motor Yacht club has decided that the course for this year's contest for the British International trophy shall be between Ryde and Cowes. The total length of the course is 32.4 sea miles and the length of each lap 5.4 sea miles. It will consist therefore of six laps. The starting and finishing line will be off Wootton creek. Each end of the course will be indicated by three marked buoys a quarter of a mile apart, forming turning angles of 120 degrees. At its widest part the course will be three-quarters of a mile and mark buoys will be placed at those points. The course is well out of the way of general traffic, but spectators will have the competitors in view the whole way round. The society of Motor Manufacturers and Traders, has presented the Royal Motor Yacht club with a cup valued at $250, which is to go to the winner of the race. The first race will be on Monday, August 11.

England will defend the trophy against France and this country. There will be three boats to represent each country, and, as each country has many aspirants for the honor of racing for the trophy, eliminating trials will be held.

The World's Best Liniment Needed in Every Family From Infancy to Old Age

IF YOUR HOME IS WITHOUT "NERVILINE" READ THE FOLLOWING CLOSELY.

The high cost of living to-day demands economy on every side. Sickness is expensive. Far better to treat little ills before they grow serious. For this reason every home should have handy on the shelf a good remedy like Nerviline, which cures the minor ailments that occur in every family.

For example, when the boy comes in with wet feet and a slight cough Nerviline will cure him. If a cold has settled on his chest, rub on Nerviline and the cold will go.

If something has been eaten that causes cramps, nausea, or diarrhoea, just twenty drops of Nerviline—that's all and cure is effected.

As a liniment for outward application in case of Neuralgia, Lame Back, Sciatica, Lumbago or Rheumatism, it's really hard to imagine how Nerviline relieves, and how soon it cures.

Nerviline is nothing new. No. It's one of the oldest and best known remedies. Used in thousands of homes by the people of many nations, simply because it stops pain, cures sickness, and rids the family of ills before they become troublesome. Get the family size bottle, price 50c; trial size 25c, at all storekeepers and druggists or The Catarrhozone Co., Buffalo, N.Y.

Here's What A Rebuilding Sale And July Clearance Will Do For You Men Folk

Now, listen, you men and young men of Edmonton—we want to tell you something that is going to prove mighty interesting to you, from an economical standpoint if for no other reason.

Carpenters, masons and all kinds of laborers are making things hum around here—they are tearing down and putting up things from morning until night. Plaster, sticks and stones and all manner of building materials are constantly getting in our way, and right where we want to put things most. We can't stand for this—we want more room—and we simply must allow the contractors more space for their rebuliding operations.

So We Are Hustling Merchandise Out of Stock Just As Fast As We Possibly Can

We are cutting prices rediculously low—in some instances we have cut them way below cost to us. There's no two ways about it—we must get our shelves and counters clear in double-quick time.

GOATS TO PROTECT SHEEP.

From the Philadelphia North American

In order to frustrate an attack on his flock of sheep by a catamount, or panther, David Glover, of near Haneyville, has purchased two Angora goats. The pugnacity of these goats is such that no animal of prey dare attempt to decimate a flock. The sheep raisers of that wild section have suffered severe losses to their flocks of late years since the big increase in black bears and catamount, and now with a real panther in the neighborhood it became necessary to do something desperate. Mr. Glover hit upon the Angora goat idea, and it seems to have settled the problem. The goats are masters of all they survey, all right, even the men folk flatting shy of getting too close to the sturdy creatures. At this season of the year the sheep are on the wild ranges. Other sheep raisers are watching Mr. Glover's experiment.

POLICE COURT

Cannot Account for Money—Harry Howard, whom the police took into their fold last night as having no visible means of support, had about $380 on him when he could not account for, and, so far as the police are concerned, when questioned stated that he had just arrived in the city from Spokane, that he had simply been here before, and that he came here to clean clothes. He was remanded until next Friday.

Tore Up eLttrs—John Byrne feels that the way of the transgressor is hard, indeed. John was picked up by the police on a vag. charge, and while on his way to the station slyly took from his pocket several letters and tore them up. The officer in charge of him collected the bits and found that the address and name did not correspond with John's, so while he was allowed to escape the vag charge, the one of tampering with his majesty's mails faces him. He came up before Inspector Raven this morning, but as the post office authorities were not ready to go on with the case, it was remanded until Monday.

Peace Dove Arrives—The house of Chandler has felt the green hand of bereavement resting upon it, and this morning the police station was enlivened by the family squabble. It seems that Mr. A. Chandler was walking down Jasper avenue with a lady acquaintance when his wife espied him and immediately gave battle to the woman in the case, Mrs. Lillian Fuller. At Kinnsino and Jasper they met and considerable hair pulling and clothes tearing was the result. Mrs. Chandler just to show that she was in the right, had a summons issued for Mrs. Fuller on an assault charge. However, just before the magistrate was about to call the case the dove of peace floated down and settled the matter.

Billiard Cue an Weapon—Paddy Woods this morning caused not only the court to laugh, but evoked a genial smile from inspector Raven when he on the head with a 20-ounce billiard testified against G. Ogile, who hit him cue and caused a six-inch cut in his scalp. Paddy evidently is of a most pugnacious nature, but gallantly admitted that he had been "licked three and that that was enough." However, times in one night by the same man, he managed to pick a quarrel with out properly. Ogile faced a charge of Ogile and the result was he was put assault and was sent up for trial.

Early Hour for Children—The moving picture theatre managers have formed a compact whereby all children under the age of 14 will be sent home from the theatres at nine p.m. sharp. The ushers will be instructed to go through the house and if any small children are there they will be escorted to the door and told to go home. This, of course, does not apply to children accompanied by parents.

Small Boy Disappears—If anyone should see a small Italian boy roaming around apparently without a home, let the police know, for they are searching for a tiny boy of four, who wandered away two days ago from the shack of Tony Rosseony, on Sixth street, north of Alberta avenue. The child, Frank Chinette by name, had been brought for a visit from his parents at Clyde last Sunday and was not very happy evidently, as he told some of the children of the neighborhood that he was going to walk home. This is a distance of 28 miles and they fear that the little fellow may become lost in the brush.

BUILDING TRADES WILL MAKE EFFORT TO SETTLE STRIKE

Electricians Went Out Without Consent of Trades Council.

SOME UNIONISTS SAY STRIKE ILL-ADVISED

Builders Exchange Has No Desire to Precipitate Crisis, Says Secretary Witmore.

That the building trades committee of the Trades and Labor council, at its meeting tomorrow, would probably devote its efforts to effecting a settlement between the electrical workers and the master electricians, and the electricians, was currently stated in labor circles today. Even well informed labormen, however, refused to prophesy what course events will take, as a considerable difference of opinion exists as to what course the trades council should adopt in regard to the strike.

A considerable section of organized labor men in the city consider that the council should give every possible assistance to the electricians. Among the more responsible men connected with the labor movement in the city, however, a feeling exists that, by declaring a strike, the electricians committed a grave tactical blunder, considering the present conditions of trade. The strike was planned without the consent of the trades council, and the view is held that the best course for the council to adopt is to endeavor to effect a settlement. Men who are recognized as influential in the trades council openly state that the planning of the strike constituted a grave mistake and one which is likely to injure the cause of organized labor in the city.

There are three courses which the trades council may adopt. They may either decide upon a general sympathetic strike; order all members of organized labor connected with the building trades to refuse to work on jobs where non-union electricians are employed, or take immediate steps to effect a settlement. Yesterday it was stated that the policy of refusing to allow union men to work with non-union electricians would probably be adopted. The feeling of labor men has largely changed in favor of the settlement policy.

The situation between the masters and the men has now reached a deadlock. The declaration of open shops automatically carries with it a cessation of recognition of the union by the employers. Consequently it is impossible for further negotiations to be carried on through the officials of the union, even if the men were willing to continue arrangements with the employers. Under the circumstances the only course which will lead to a speedy solution of the problem appears to lie in the trades council intervening in the matter.

A. O. Witmore, secretary of the Builders' Exchange, stated today that the employers had no desire to precipitate a crisis. The reason for the delay in meeting the men's representatives, he stated, arose out of the fact that several electrical contractors were on case on delibera on the matter of the validity of the bylaw.

The marriage of John Nichol, of Edmonton, and Mary S. Wright, formerly of Stirling, Scotland, took place yesterday, the Rev. A. M. Dallas being the officiating clergyman. The newly married couple will reside in South Edmonton.

South Side News

That the city bylaw prohibiting a speed of over 10 miles an hour in ultra vires, in view of the fact that the provincial motor and vehicle act allows a speed of 15 miles an hour, was contended in the south side police court yesterday by C. A. Grant, who was charged with speeding on a bicycle. Grant admitted having exceeded the 10 mile limit, but contended that he was not travelling faster than 10 miles an hour. Magistrate Downes took the case on deliberation on the matter of the validity of the bylaw.

News of the City

Publicity Commissioner Goes East—With the object of personally furthering the cause of publicity for Alberta, which is being carried on in the United States, Charles S. Hotchkiss, publicity commissioner for the province, left Edmonton on a six weeks' trip. Mr. Hotchkiss will attend the International Typographical convention at Nashville, Texas, with the object of obtaining the next congress for Alberta. Large immigration is expected from Michigan, Indiana, Kansas City and other points, and Mr. Hotchkiss will visit each of these centres to give all the information and assistance in his power to intending settlers.

Inter-denominational Sunday School—Owing to teachers and others interested in Sunday school work, are expected to attend, in large numbers, the second inter-denominational school for Sunday school teachers, which is to be held at the Alberta college, from June 23rd to 29th. Applications for admission to the course have been received from all over the province, and special rates are being offered by the railway companies. Arrangements have been made whereby students attending the school will be able to board at the college at an expense of only $7 for the whole course.

Land Office Moves—Alexander Norquay, Dominion Commissioner of Lands, has received instructions that the land office is to be removed from its present quarters, on Jasper avenue, west of Fifth street, to the ground floor of the Alexandra block, on Howard street. The furnishings of the office will be removed over the week-end, and the new premises opened for business on Monday morning.

Children's Aid Meeting—At the regular monthly meeting of the Children's Aid Society, held on Wednesday, July 10th, reports were read from the various departments and showed that the work of the society had been carried on most successfully since the last meeting. The society wishes to thank many friends for the contributions of clothing, etc., for the children who are at the shelter. They also are very grateful to Mr. Menasse, of the Empress theatre, who donated the sum of $18, the proceeds of the house from a Sunday picture show. The society received a most acceptable gift in the shape of a refrigerator, from Revillon Wholesale, and one that is being appreciated during the hot summer months.

Colt Not Stolen—Detective Meehan has found the colt that he reported as stolen some days ago. It was recovered some few miles south of the city.

I. O. O. F. Installation of Officers—The semi-installation of officers for Namayo Lodge No. 47, I.O.O.F., will take place on Monday evening in the lodge hall, corner of Namayo and Griesbach street.

NEW MARKET BUILDING NOT FOR PRESENT YEAR

Construction Work Will Not Be Started Until the Financial Atmosphere Becomes Clear.

The market committee held a meeting this morning to look over the revised plans of the new building and site for the first street site. The plans were approved and recommendation will be made to the council that the architect be instructed to complete them, but that actual work be not started until the financial atmosphere has cleared.

This recommendation probably will mean that there will be no new market building this year.

THE PRISON FARM FOR MORPHINE USER

Drug Victim With Punctured Hide Sent to Lethbridge to Lose the Habit.

Judge Taylor, Crown Prosecutor Cogswell, and several local doctors consulted together in the district criminal court today as to the best method to be adopted in curing a morphine fiend of his allegiance to the drug. The matter arose out of the trial of T. J. Tyndale, who was found guilty of the theft of two watches from the offices of local doctors.

On June 14th, Tyndale entered the consulting room of Dr. Garner, Empire block, presumably searching for morphine. Before Dr. Garner could leave his inner office Tyndale had made off with a gold watch belonging to Lois Dillon, Dr. Garner's nurse. When Tyndale was examined at the police station, another gold watch, which had been stolen from Dr. Dillon, was found in his possession.

Tyndale, whose body was covered with marks caused by injections of the drug, had previously been sentenced to six months in jail for having the drug in his possession, and H. H. Robertson, who appeared on the accused's behalf, requested Judge Taylor to impose a sentence to run concurrently with that already imposed. Mr. Robertson stated that Tyndale had been without morphine ever since he had been sentenced, and he was already nearly insane from the enforced deprivation of the drug. Mr. Robertson added that if Tyndale were sent down for more than six months, the imprisonment would undoubtedly kill him. Tyndale, Mr. Robertson stated, had influential friends, and they had arranged that he should be sent to a sanitarium for treatment as soon as released.

After consulting with medical men, Judge Taylor sent Tyndale to Lethbridge for a year to recuperate on the prison farm.

The Canadian Northern Railway are arranging to operate two special trains on Saturday, the 12th of July, to the Exhibition grounds. The trains will leave at 1.00 p.m. and 2.00 p.m., returning at 6.30 p.m. and 7.30 p.m. These will be filled with 2500 Orangemen and their friends from all over the province, who will celebrate the Battle of the Boyne by holding a large Mass Meeting, Sports and other various entertainments.
